Outcome Will Depend on Columbus Vote

Council Takes Action on Fast Time

Columbus may decide whether or not Marionites will advance their clocks one hour beginning May 12.

That's the effect of an ordinance which will be considered by Marion City Council at its March 25 meeting.

A motion to have an ordinance prepared calling for estalishment of Daylight Savings Time here from May 12 through Aug. 31 was adopted 7-2 by council at its meeting in City Hall Monday night.

But the motion, submitted by Councilman-at-large Richard Lister, also made adoption of "fast" time here contingent upon adoption of daylight time by Columbus voters at the May 7 primary.

Consideration of fast time in Marion and several other central Ohio communities began after Columbus City Council adopted legislation to establish fast time there this summer. Faced with the possibility of petitions blocking establishment of fast time, the Columbus council later decided to put the question up to the voters at the May 7 primary.

The Columbus council left the original ordinance on the books, however. If no petitions are filed, fast time will become effective there the last of April. If petitions are filed blocking fast time, but the voters approve a charter amendment establishing it, fast time will become effective there May 17.

In making his motion that legislation be prepared for adoption of fast time here, Mr. Lister said that there is considerable commercial and individual business carried on between Marion and Columbus. For this reason, if Columbus goes on fast time, Marion should too, he said.

R. G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, indicated he favored consideration of the plan

City To Add Engineer for Sewer Work

Two Inspectors Also Approved; $600,000 Limit Set on Projects

Ordinances to employ a sanitary engineer and two inspectors and authorizing the expenditure of up to $600,000 for the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. sewer projects were adopted by Marion City Council at its meeting Monday night in City Hall.

But three resolutions declaring the necessity for proposed projects on Silver St., Pearl St. and Davids St.-Bellefontaine Ave. were sent back to committee for more study.

Lengthy Debate

Adoption of the two ordinances came last night after lengthy debate on whether the city or the consulting engineers should provide the resident engineer and the inspectors on the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. projects and whether or not there should be a limit on the project cost.

The decision to place a top limit on the project came after Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow told council that the lowest and best bids for the construction of the sewers totaled $499,565.

John Corwin, Fifth Ward, had objected to the ordinance as presented to council. He said it was an "open-end" ordinance that conceivably could allow the city's entire $1,135,000 bond issue to be spent on the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. projects. The ordinance as presented did not place a limit on the total amount of expenditure for the project, stating only that the cost should be paid from the sanitary sewer improvement fund.

'Unfair Responsibility'

Mr. Corwin added that he felt it would be unfair to place all the responsibility for the expenditure on Mr. Bigelow. He explained he felt that council should know exactly how much of the sewer improvement money is spent on each project.

Mr. Bigelow pointed out that council previously had authorized him to advertise for bids and enter into contracts for two new sewers on Forest Lawn Blvd. and one on Indiana Ave. He said if council had no intention of appropriating the funds, it should not have authorized him to advertise for bids.

City Solicitor Riley Hall earlier had pointed out that bids had been LETTERS FOR SWIMMING POOL. Some 16,000 letters explaining plans for a community swimming pool and containing pledge cards were slated to be mailed to Marion County homes today. They were placed in envelopes and sealed by some 200 boys and girls at the Club Co-Ed room at the YMCA Monday night. Shown here are three of the young people who assisted. They are (left to right) Josie Huber of St. Mary School, Bobbi Blow of Claridon School and Mary Barkley of Harding High School. The letters will ask that no money or checks be returned in reply. The Marion Community Swimming Pool organization wants only pledges now and will collect money only if total pledges are sufficient to assure building the pool.

Fresh Crisis Develops in Middle East

Recall of Assembly Possible; Bunche in Cairo for Conferences

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An Egyptian official said today he understood Egypt plans to send only administrative units into the controversial Gaza Strip. He said he doubts the Egyptian government intends to move military forces there in the immediate future.

The official made the comment after Col. Salah Gohar, head of the Egyptian Palestine department, conferred with Dr. Ralph Bunche, U. N. undersecretary general, on Egypt's appointment of Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif as military governor of the area.

Seeks Compromise

It was assumed Bunche was seeking to learn if some compromise might be worked out involving the U. N. Emergency Force, which moved into the strip last week when Israeli troops pulled out.

Gen. Abdel Latif was closeted today with Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, Egyptian army commander.

The Egyptian official's comment suggested the Egyptians may be ready to permit UNEF units to continue policing frontier areas, but insist on assuming control of the civil administration of the strip.

Well-informed neutrals here reported the Egyptians were in no position now to send military forces in any strength to Gaza. They said the condition of communications across the Sinai Desert to Gaza would put an almost impossible burden on the Egyptians if they attempted to take over defense of the area.

No Troops in Desert

Almost no Egyptian combat troops have been moved into the Sinai Desert since Israeli forces withdrew after their attack last fall, a neutral military observer said. Practically all Egyptian army installations there were destroyed by the retreating Israelis, he said, with the result that only a small token Egyptian administrative unit has been sent in to reoccupy the area.

U. N. officials sought to minimize the Egyptian move to re-establish administrative rights in Gaza. But U. S. and Israeli officials feared a serious new crisis was blowing up. There was talk in New York that the U. N. assembly might be called back into session.

Bunche later was to see Deputy Foreign Minister Abdel Fattah Hassan. The deputy is acting chief of the foreign office in the absence of Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, who is on his way home from the U. N.

Rights Not Questioned

Bunche after the Egyptian announcement said the U. N. has never "questioned Egypt's legal rights regarding Gaza." But at U.N. headquarters a source close to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold termed the Egyptian action regrettable.

U.S. officials considered the Egyptian move completely out of line with Egypt's reported position during talks on the withdrawal of Israeli troops from Gaza.

Mayor Calls Off Lie Test, Hits Inquiry

Detector Quiz Was To Be 'Loaded,' Oregon Official Tells Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland, Ore., said today he called off a lie detector test on his denial of accepting a bribe because he felt the Secret Service had "a fishing expedition lined up" in administering the test.

Schrunk was hailed back before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee following his refusal to complete the lie detector test Monday.

Claims Questions Loaded

Schrunk claimed today questions proposed to be asked him were "loaded" and concerned matters which he had not been asked in his earlier testimony last week at the Senate hearings.

Before Schrunk returned to the witness chair, Clyde C. Crosby, Oregon boss of the Teamsters Union, told the senators he had what he called new and "very important evidence" bearing on their inquiry into allegations that he and other union officials "muscled in" on Portland rackets.

"It is documented, it is sworn to," Crosby said, and asked permission to read it.

Calls for Check

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) temporarily barred the offering until he had an opportunity to check its nature.

Crosby gave no clue to its nature.

In accordance with earlier instructions from the committee, Crosby turned over to it a batch of wire recordings.

McClellan said they had been seized from a private home in Portland under a search warrant "fraudulently and illegally issued."

McClellan said they may be played into evidence later.

On Stand Briefly

Crosby remained only briefly on the witness stand as the committee prepared to deal with a request by Mayor Terry D. Schrunk of Portland for permission to answer under oath in the hearing what his lawyer described as new questions injected into a lie detector test.

McClellan said the committee was "waiting for the arrival of a document" before going into this, and called a brief recess without explaining what the document might be.

Schrunk began the lie detector test Monday but balked at completing it. He contended new questions were being thrown at him.

Schrunk had demanded the lie detector test after denying to the committee that he had accepted a $500 bribe from Portland gambler Clifford (Jimmy) Bennett during a raid in 1955. Schrunk, a Democrat, was Multnomah County (Portland) sheriff at the time.

Adm. Byrd, Polar Explorer, Is Dead

BOSTON (AP) — Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, (USN-Ret), 68, noted explorer who headed two arctic and five antarctic expeditions, died in his sleep at his home Monday night.

His doctors said he died of a heart ailment brought on by overwork.

He was the over-all head of Navy's huge Operation Deep Freeze in Antarctica in this International Geophysical Year, but his failing heart kept him from assuming on-the-spot supervision.

Family at Side

His wife and four children were at his bedside when he passed away at 6:20 p.m. (EST) at his home at the foot of Beacon Hill.

Byrd was the first man to fly over both the North and South poles and held numerous decorations, including the Medal of Honor, for his explorations.

He is credited with charting some two million square miles of the earth's surface previously unseen by man. No one has ever equaled that feat. He laid the basis for possible American claims to a third of Antarctica.

Once Byrd estimated his nose had been nipped by frost some 200 times. His face bore many tiny freezing marks.

Naval Aviation Pioneer

After his graduation from the Naval Academy in 1912, a leg injury forced him into early retirement, but he came back to serve in World Wars I and II, pioneer in naval aviation and command the first multi-engine plane to fly the Atlantic continent to continent nonstop.

He was commissioned a rear admiral at the age of 41, youngest of that rank at the time.

His last trip to the South Pole was in late 1955 and early 1956.

On a 1947 expedition to Antarctica, Byrd found that food left 10 years earlier in his Little America camp was perfectly preserved.

This led him to suggest that the antarctic could serve as a vast natural refrigerator to store crops in bumper years.

"The world would never have another famine," he said at the time. "Surplus food could be

To Serve Hospitals, Homes Board

Rev. Walter C. Eyster Gets High Church Post

Appointment of Rev. Walter C. Eyster, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, to a high post in the denomination's General Board of Hospitals and Homes was announced today by Ohio Bishop Hazen G. Werner.

He will become director of personnel and institutional church relationships for the board.

His appointment is effective April 23.

He and his family will move to Chicago, Ill., where the national board has its headquarters.

The staff of which he will be a member includes 14 officers headed by Olin E. Oeschger, general secretary.

Rev. Eyster's new position involves responsibility in personnel matters for more than 30,000 full-time employes of Methodist hospitals and homes from coast to coast. He will be entrusted with procuring qualified Christian people as employes in these positions of service to the public and will minister to and be the spiritual ad-

3 Firms Get Contracts for New Sewers

Three bidders today were awarded contracts for construction of the Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. sanitary trunk and relief sewers, Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow announced.

The three bids totaled $499,542, according to a tabulation made by the city engineering department.

Mr. Bigelow said that the lowest and best bids could be obtained by splitting the project among the three bidders.

The contract for the Indiana Ave. 30-inch trunk sewer went to R. H. McManus and Co. of Detroit on a low base bid of $390,639, Mr. Bigelow said.

The contract for the 30-inch trunk in Forest Lawn Blvd. from Indiana Ave. south to Mt. Vernon Ave. went to Frank Verderberger, Inc., of Toledo on a low bid of $87,744.

Low bidder on the contract for the 10-inch relief sewer on Forest Lawn Blvd. from Indiana Ave. north to Center St. was Tiffin Excavating Contractors, Inc., on a bid of $21,158, he said.

Mr. Bigelow noted that the lowest combination of bids was based on Alternate F for the Indiana Ave. trunk (which is to use reinforced concrete pipe in both tunnel and open cut construction) and

Salary Issue Balks School Head Search

Ohio Assembly Must Determine Pay Before Man Can Be Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Board of Education faces the task of finding "as quickly as possible" a new state superintendent of public instruction.

But just how quickly the board can act depends to some extent upon Ohio's General Assembly.

For one thing, the board cannot hire a man to replace Harold Vincent, Milwaukee school superintendent who withdrew from the Ohio post last month, until the Legislature sets a definite salary for the job.

Moreover, board members themselves admit they are working under a "tremendous handicap" in trying to find a new man as long as the makeup of the board is still in doubt.

Hearings before the House Education Committee start today on proposals to revamp the 23-man elected board. Among the proposals are suggestions to cut the membership to either seven or nine, and make them appointive rather than elective.

However, board member Elliott Myers of Ironton, seeking support of his resolution setting up a screening committee, told the board Monday night:

"We can't sit back and wait until the Legislature does something."

Uncertainty about the board's ability to act was expressed by board member Frank Seidel of Rocky River.

Councilman Says Police Lax on Parking Tickets

A councilman's charge Monday night that a city policeman failed to issue tickets for parking violations last week brought prompt replies today from Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow and Police Chief Justin E. Cornely.

Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward, told council Monday night he followed a city patrolman recently and saw him ignore 35 parking meter violations. Another day he counted 18 cars in violation that were not tagged, he told council.

In a letter to Mayor Gale D. Ireland today, Mr. Bigelow and Chief Cornely said:

"It is the unanimous opinion of the undersigned that Mr. Williams as a councilman should furnish either the safety-service director or the chief of police . . . with the officer's name. If Mr. Williams cannot furnish the officer's name, then he should give us the day and time and location in which he alleged the officer was negligent.

"Until Mr. Williams supplies this information we are powerless to discipline the officer for the negligence Mr. Williams claims was practiced. It is the desire of the undersigned to see that each and every police officer fulfills his obligation as an officer.

"When Mr. Williams supports the charge of negligence by proper evidence, appropriate action will be taken against the guilty officer."

When contacted today, Mr. Williams declared he would furnish no more information than what was given at the council meeting.

Board Considers Survey Of Marion School Needs

The Marion Board of Education at its monthly meeting Monday night conditionally voted to employ the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research to conduct a school survey on possible future building needs for Marion city schools.

The group approved the action pending an investigation by Joseph G. Whisler, director of pupil personnel, concerning enrollment trends and other factors.

IF GIVEN FINAL approval, the survey will begin next fall with a final report to be submitted to the board by spring of 1958. Supt. Robert S. Brown reported that the service would cost approximately $2,000.

The report would include a detailed study of the present school facilities, recommendations to avert increasingly crowded conditions and an analysis of population trends throughout the city.

The board discussed the possible ways of financing a building program and after considerable discussion authorized Mr. Brown to collect information concerning the advantages of a pay-as-you-go plan vs. a bond program, and the comparative cost of both plans.

UNDER THE pay-as-you-go plan, it was pointed out that a two-mill levy, for example, would net a total of $148,000 a year over a five-year period, making $750,000 available over the entire period and saving the taxpayer considerable interest.

The group took unanimous action in passing a resolution requesting Ohio State University officials to give every possible consideration to the establishment of a university branch here. The resolution included a stipulation offering present school facilities for a branch school.

Mr. Brown reported that primary plans are being made for the survey which he has been authorized by Ohio State officials to carry out concerning interest in the establishment of a branch

Around City Council's Table

Marion City Council Monday night adopted nine pieces of legislation and discussed a number of other items of business at its regular meeting in City Hall.

All nine councilmen, the council president and the clerk of council were present for the meeting.

Other city officials attending included Mayor Gale D. Ireland, Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow, Solicitor Riley Hall, City Engineer John V. Ruth, City Auditor Elmer Shaw and Deputy Auditor Robert Wooley.

The invocation was given by Rev. Floyd E. Kline, pastor of the Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

Building Code Urged

The proposed building code for the city, dormant for several months was given a shot in the arm by the Marion Chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

A letter to council from the engineers' group stated that the organization had adopted a motion at its Feb. 12 meeting to ask council to favorably consider the proposed code.

Council unanimously adopted a motion to accept the letter and place it on file, but neither discussed nor took any other action on it.

The letter, signed by Harry W. Carey, secretary-treasurer, said, in part:

"The Marion Chapter of the OSPE has followed with interest the progress made . . . with regard to adoption of a building code. In the interest of assisting in the orderly development of the community, the chapter respectively urges that council consider favorably the adoption of a building code."

Adoption of such a code was under discussion by council several times last year. At that time, the plan was presented that a model national code might be adopted by reference here. A question arose as to whether such a code could be adopted by reference, thus saving the cost of advertising the entire code. The issue since has faded into the background with no further comment or discussion in council sessions.

Appropriations Made

An ordinance to appropriate an additional $18,510 from the general fund and $5,955 from the sewer service charge fund was adopted 9-0.

Finance committee chairman R. G. Haldeman, councilman - at - large, said the appropriations were to cover the cost of salary raises granted all city employes in January by council.

The raises were for all city employes except elected officials and ranged from $15 to $40 a month.

Largest segments of the $18,510 additional appropriation from the general fund were for raises granted policemen and firemen. These were an additional $6,407 for regular policemen and $7,095 for regular firemen.

In addition to pay raises for the superintendent and operators at the sewage treatment plant, the $5,955 from the sewer fund was to provide funds for city payments to state industrial insurance and the public employes retirement service.

3 Resolutions Okayed

Three resolutions concerning various curb and gutter and pavements on various streets were adopted 9-0.

All call for advertisement of the estimated assessments for improvements. One is a curb and gutter project completed last summer on the west side of Davids St. from Bellefontaine Ave. to Keener St.

The other two are for curbs, gutters and a pavement on Eisenhower Ave. and Washington Ave. from Seminole Ave. to S. Vine St.

Claim Settled

An ordinance authorizing the settlement of a damage claim with Robert J. Bintz of 675 King Ave. for $1,000 was adopted 8-1.

The ordinance noted that Mr. Bintz had filed a claim in Common Pleas Court against the city in the amount of $11,012.50 for injuries allegedly suffered in a fall on a bad sidewalk some time ago. Mr. Bintz alleged that he fractured an ankle in the fall and suffered permanent injuries therefrom.

Emmett Osterholt, Sixth Ward, said he felt the city safety-service director should warn owners of property having bad walks that they must fix their walks or the city will do it and the cost will be assessed against the property owners.

He first called for a motion to direct the safety-service director to take this action, then withdrew it after it was pointed out that similar laws already exist on city books.

Action Approved

A resolution approving the action of the planning commission in granting permissive use to Richard E. McClead to use a garage to be built on his property for a music studio was adopted 8-1. Opposed to it was Richard E. Lister, who has taken the stand that he will vote for no permissive use permits because they are a form of spot zoning. Harold Smith, First Ward, said that only one neighbor had objected to the music studio but had later withdrawn his opposition.

No Action on Request

Council decided to take no action on a request of Frank Eyster of 396 Olney Ave. that parking be permitted on the east side of Olney Ave. from Columbia to Church Sts. from 9 to 12 a.m. on Sundays.

Mr. Eyster reminded council he had brought the subject before council two weeks ago and was told to take the matter to the safety-service director.

He said he did this and was directed back to council by the director, who he said told him that parking would be permitted if council approved it.

Mr. Haldeman asked what Mr. Bigelow recommended. Mr. Bigelow said that both the police chief and the fire chief were opposed to permitting the parking because it would be in a fire lane

But he also noted that parking is permitted in fire lane on Windsor St. at Bellefontaine Ave. on Sunday mornings for the benefit of members of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church. He said he understood this action was taken during the administration of Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

Various councilmen said they could not recall adopting legislation for such a purpose.

Mr. Haldeman said he felt it was wrong, and that if it is true, the Sunday parking in the fire lane on Windsor St. should be prohibited again. He said he felt all churches should be treated the same. He noted that the fire lanes were established as a safety measure.

Mr. Bigelow said he, too, felt all should be treated the same.

Mr. Eyster indicated he felt council shouldn't allow the opinions of the police chief and fire chief to influence action to permit the parking. He also said that he felt it would be "un-American" for council to permit or grant special favors to one individual or group and not to another.

The matter was referred to the streets and alleys committee for further study and a report at a later meeting.

Alley Vacated

An ordinance to vacate a 10-foot wide alley running east from Ballentine Ave. between Lots 979 and 980 was adopted 9-0. Ralph Williams, streets and alleys committee chairman, said there were no objections from abutting property owners concerning the vacation.

Other Business

In other business, council:

Heard a motion of Harold Smith that the 3-6 p.m. parking ban on Church St. be abandoned on Saturday afternoons. Mr. Haldeman said he would like to hear the safety - service director's opinion first. The matter was discussed no further.

Received a report from Herman Rinehart, Third Ward councilman and sewer committee chairman, that he will order in legislation for the next council meeting to pay a damage claim of a DeWolf Ct. resident who charged that her basement was damaged when water backed up into it while a city crew was flushing the sewer.

Received a petition for vacation of an alley running east from S. Main St. south of Columbia St. between Lots 394 and 395. It was referred to the streets and alleys committee.

Received a request from Mr. Corwin that Mr. Bigelow be requested to report his findings on providing adequate runway lighting at Municipal Airport at the next meeting.

Attend Soil Meeting

KENTON — Harold Ault, chairman of the Hardin County Soil Conservation district, and Harley Shuck, former supervisor of the board, left Monday morning for Washington, D.C., to attend a soil conservation meeting. During their stay they hope to confer with congressmen and farm leaders on various farm matters.

Benson Tries To Cut Record Farm Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson is working with Budget Bureau officials in an effort to trim his department's record-breaking budget of $5,300,000,000 for the coming fiscal year.

This combing of the department's proposed spending program is being made under calls from both the White House and Capitol Hill that federal outlays be reduced.

Benson aides say the job is difficult because the bulk of the department's expenditures come in the field of supporting farm prices and incomes — fields where many lawmakers are demanding greater rather than smaller federal spending.

More than half of the department's budget is for such programs as supporting farm prices, the soil bank land retirement plan, payments to farmers for conserving soil and water and subsidies to sugar and wool producers.

McCann To Speak

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kevin McCann of Defiance College will speak at the Ohio State University winter quarter commencement ceremonies in St. John Arene Friday, when some 500 seniors and graduate students receive their degrees.

Senate To Study Alleged Abuses in Financing of Cars

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee will open hearings March 18 on charges of widespread abuses in car financing practices, Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today.

Monroney, chairman of the Automobile Marketing Practices Subcommittee, said a state-by-state survey had revealed a number of points which sould be explored.

He named them as "illegal and deceptive insurance charges, high and misunderstood finance charges, no-down-payment plans requiring the car buyer to mortgage his furniture or goods, 'balloon' notes in which the last payment equals many hundreds of dollars that must be refinanced, and repossession abuses."

Russian Revolt Erupted 40 Years Ago

Overthrow of Czar Brought Brief Freedom

Editor's Note: Four decades ago the Russian people overthrew the Czar and stood in freedom, a freedom soon lost to the Bolsheviks. Why did they lose it? The answer perhaps lies in the character of the people themselves. William L. Ryan, Associated Press specialist on Russia, explains what that character is in this series of four articles.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

BLOODY START. Revolt on the streets of Petrograd 40 years ago set in motion the historic chain of events which ushered communism into world history. The March revolt threw off ancient chains of oppression. Eight months later the Bolsheviks installed tyranny worse than the czars'.

Forty years ago today a spark of freedom burst into brilliant flame in the dark of a Petrograd morning. It brought Russia to the edge of what might have been a golden age.

A revolution, first of two great 1917 upheavals in Russia, exploded Monday, March 12, at the height of a cruel European war. To history it was like a flash of lightning across a sky black with oppression. The following November it was to vanish in the thunder of a Bolshevik betrayal.

The first Russian revolution of 1917—the "February revolution" by the old Russian calendar—had nothing to do with Bolshevism. Bolshevik leaders played no part in it. It was what they chose to call the "bourgeois"—or middle class capitalist—revolution, a rising of all the people from nobles to peasants.

First of a Series

Had it been permitted to live and develop, the February revolution which overthrew Czar Nicholas II might have produced a new Russian, freed from his fear and suspicion of the West, his aged old superstitious reverence for absolute power. Instead, a Bolshevik counter-revolution in November installed totalitarianism by force. With 40 years to develop, that revolution produced what the Kremlin today calls the "new Soviet man."

Ivan, unready for freedom, succumbed to his perennial habit of submission. The "new Soviet man" is the image of the ancient Russian. Strong, tenacious, enduring and long suffering, he is—like his ancestor—impervious to misery around him but worried about misery far away. He will work until he drops for glorification of the Motherland. He is deeply patriotic, but his patriotism is a mystic love of the soil rather than respect for a government or a system.

TODAY HIS government is more state capitalist, in a harsh sense of the term, than it is Communist or Marxian Socialist. Its lopsided economy, bent on industrial and military might above all, faces new crises. The "new Soviet man" is stirring, not so much because of oppression as because of vague misgivings. His leaders, so long infallible as Czar and Stalin, today are lesser men commanding neither awe nor respect.

Russians never revolted against a system. They rose in anger when burdens became too great. From Ivan the Terrible to Khrushchev the Commonplace the story has been the same. When rulers feared the burden might be unbearable, they relaxed oppression. From relaxation came uprisings, from uprisings, new oppression.

What makes Russians what they are? Probably it's their history—a chronicle of unending tragedy—and their deep sense of identification with their past.

Their first great tragedy occurred seven centuries ago, when hordes from Asia swept across Russia all the way to Kiev, then the fountain of Slav culture. From then, the center of Russian life shifted toward Moscow. Its grand princes intrigued servilely with the Asian conquerors, who left the Russians with a habit of total autocracy and a suspicion of outside ideas. The Russians never shook off the influence.

Through the ages Russia wrapped herself in mystery. Even in the enlightened 19th and 20th centuries, occasional travellers returning from Russia were like adventurers from another world, full of wondrous tales of a cruel and baffling land.

"WE ARE POOR with the accumulated poverty of 1,000 years," once wrote Leon Trotsky, later an architect of the Bolshevik betrayal. They were poor from 1,000 years of great and small wars, intrigues, hero saints and legendary devils, suspicion and fear, want and barbarism. Their history was pock-marked by invading hordes from Asia and predatory enemies from the west, a history of vast superstition, deep mysticism, mass ignorance.

It was a history finally dominated by Moscow, whose princes restlessly pushed out their log cabin principality in ever-widening circles. The story is dotted with grandeur, blackened by oppression, constantly repeating itself.

Through it all ran a mystic theme of Russia as the world's center, the Russians as the world's hope of salvation. Russian literature mirrored this quirk of character. It sung in dirges of sin and suffering, humiliation and repentance. But to her writers, Russia's wars were crusades to save others. Russia never could see the clutter of misery in her own backyard.

Russia warred on the Turks to save religious freedom, and there was no religious freedom in Russia. She warred with Poland to save peasants from the Polish nobility, but Russia's own farmers were in slavery. She expanded endlessly, bent on spreading enlightenment, and in Russia there was darkness.

A CENTURY AGO an idea with the sound of Utopia came from Germany. Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels produced a manifesto proclaiming that "a specter of communism" haunted Europe. Russian thinkers leaped at the notion. The idea suited them. It promised an absolute—Utopia—and Russians seek absolute answers. Alexander Herzen, the liberal Russian thinker, wrote 100 years ago:

"I believe there is some justification for the fear of communism which the Russian government begins to feel. Communism is the Russian autocracy, turned upside-own."

Russia drew a breath of freedom in 1917. The overthrow of Czar Nicholas II was a liberal revolution of the whole people which might have transformed rich Russia from a land of darkness and oppression into a modern, progressive Western state.

Before it could get started, the revolution was captured by a Bolshevik armed coup d'etat. Russians submitted. Tyranny once again replaced tyranny. Communism was the upside-down autocracy, more ruthless than the czars imposed. The Russians seemed more ready for it than they were for political liberty.

Like one of Dostoievsky's gloomy characters in "The Possessed," the Russian found that "after striving for unlimited liberty, I finally arrived at unlimited despotism."

Pay Hike Approved

CLEVELAND (AP)—City Council Monday night approved pay raises of 8 to 10 per cent for city employes despite objections of Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze.

New Quarters

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Employes of the First National Bank haven't quite learned their way around their new building, occupied Saturday. Twice they set off alarm systems that brought police officers swarming into the bank.

House Group in Debate Over Corn Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political conflicts and reluctance to increase farm subsidies seemed likely today to defeat proposed new farm aid for the surplus-glutted corn belt.

After four days of fruitless dickering among farm leaders seeking to compromise partisan differences, the House scheduled resumption late in the day of debate on corn legislation where it left off last Thursday.

Before calling up the farm bill, however, leaders planned to dispose of other business. Final farm action, therefore, probably will be postponed until Wednesday.

Forfeits Bond

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—James Kovach, 23, Akron, forfeited a $50 bond by failure to appear in municipal court on a reckless driving charge Monday following a traffic accident.

His passenger, Miss Jo Ann Vercuski, 21, Canton, was pinned underneath their overturned automobile for 30 minutes. She is in City Hospital with a possible fracture of the right leg and other injures.

Bicyclist Killed

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A 70-year-old resident of near Rossburg was killed Monday when his bicycle was struck by a car at a county road intersection north of here. State highway patrolmen identified him as Charles Bazill.

Savings Time Being Studied For Delaware

DELAWARE — Preparation of legislation that would put Delaware on Daylight Saving Time from April 28 to Sept. 28 was authorized Monday night by City Council for consideration at its next regular meeting April 8.

Council indicated, however, that permanent adoption of the ordinance would depend on the outcome of a charter amendment scheduled for submission to Columbus voters May 7.

The Columbus amendment would establish the time change permanently. City Manager Roger Stilwell said that if council adopts the ordinance and the Columbus proposal is defeated, repeal would logically follow here.

In other action, council ordered the public works committee to study traffic conditions at four city intersections. The study was recommended after council voted 5 to 2 against installation of four-way stop signs at the crossings.

A petition asking installation of a four-way stop sign at the intersection of N. Liberty and W. Winter streets was circulated shortly after an Ohio Wesleyan fraternity housemother was fatally injured there Feb. 24.

The other three corners to be studied are among those considered "hazardous" by council.

News of Granges

MOUNT OLIVE

The grange basketball team was honored at the Thursday night meeting of Mount Olive Grange in the Green Camp Township Hall. Ralph Bailey, grange master, was in charge.

A cake walk was conducted by Mrs. Joe Lyon, grange lecturer, with the following winners: Ronald Converse, Keith Bailey, David Allen and Mrs. Woodrow Thorpe. A square dance followed, with music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. John Allen and Paul Clay. Gerald Reynolds called.

Degree work will feature the April 4 meeting. Mount Olive members will put on a third degree, with Tymochtee Grange handling the work for the fourth. In charge of refreshments will be Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beaver. Mrs. Frank Clay announced a sewing contest slated for May 2.

A check doesn't have to be dated to be legal. It can also be dated Feb. 30 and still be good.

NOTICE

Dale Thatcher, whose last known residence is 123½ West Main Street, Watertown, New York, is hereby notified that Evelyn Thatcher has filed her petition against him for divorce, alimony and custody of children in Case No. 33618, of the Common Pleas Court of Marion County, Ohio and that said cause will be for hearing on or after the 25th day of April 1957.

Bucyrus Man Honored By Pythians at Crestline

BUCYRUS—Otto Feiring, a lifelong Crawford County resident and a former county treasurer, was guest of honor Monday night at a meeting of the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Crestline in observance of his 90th birthday, which occurred Monday.

Mr. Feiring, a retired tailor, has lived in Bucyrus 62 years. He joined the Crestline K. of P. lodge in 1892 and transferred his membership to the Bucyrus lodge in 1895 when he moved here. He has held every office in the local lodge except secretary and twice served as grand chancellor. He also is a past president of the Eagles lodge here.

From 1912 to 1914, he served as a township treasurer and from 1914 to 1920 was city auditor of Bucyrus. A Democrat, he was county treasurer from 1920 to 1924.

Where We Came In

It is going to occur suddenly to millions of international worry-warts in the next few days that everything in the Middle East is as bad as it was before, except the name of the badness now is going to be "Egypt" again.

Israel has taken itself off the spot. Britain and France previously had taken themselves off the spot. Even the Soviet Union is not on the spot as directly as it was a year ago.

But the spot is there, and Egypt is on it. The spot is unsettled trouble between Egypt and Israel set aside eight years ago by an armistice. More accurately, it is unsettled trouble generated by friction between the growing nationalism of Arab countries and the fading colonialism of countries which once ran the Mediterranean world to suit themselves. Among many things the Arabs resent is the cultivation, by the West of the new state of Israel in their midst.

Before long, it will have been a year since Egypt nationalized the Suez Canal and brought tension to a climax in the Middle East. The climax is still in existence — a fact that will become uncomfortably plain now that Israel has stepped aside to let the world get an unobstructed view of Egypt.

The Answer Was No

A new bill before the General Assembly to legalize supplemental unemployment benefits in Ohio must be looked at in the light of what happened to the original bill two years ago.

When it was stopped in committee, the proposal was submitted to voters in a referendum by its CIO sponsors. Voters turned it down by a 600,000 majority. The proposal won a majority in only 7 of Ohio's 88 counties. A thumping 62-per cent majority voted against it.

This was not a division between organized labor and other Ohioans but a division between Ohioans who sought a special privilege and Ohioans who did not think the privilege was either justified or reasonable.

Only a handful of working people would have been in a position to claim both state-paid unemployment compensation and supplemental benefits paid by a few large employers. They were asking, in effect, for first and second classes of unemployment — and Ohio's answer was No.

It still should be No. It still would be No. Ohio's representatives and senators have no need to wonder how their constituents feel; they have the results of the referendum in 1955 to show how their constituents feel.

This does not mean there cannot be another upward revision of the state's unemployment compensation rates. That is a matter to be considered separately. The rates have been liberalized before and should be kept under continuous review.

But there is no favor in Ohio for a proposal to give a small minority of workers employed by a few large companies a privileged status that cannot be granted to all workers.

The bill to legalize supplemental unemployment benefits is essentially a proposal for class legislation. When Ohioans were given a chance to vote on it in a referendum they turned it down overwhelmingly. They would turn it down again, if they had another crack at it.

The General Assembly knows how the people feel about this one. The popular vote was 7-to-4 against it in 1955.

Change of Climate

It is being recalled in connection with the Senate investigation of racketeering deals between unionists and shady enterprise that similar revelations more than a generation ago created the climate for antitrust laws.

The possibility of a new climate for anti-monopoly laws regulating abuses of unionism was pointed up last week when the Indiana legislature passed à "right-to-work" bill after public opinion has been stirred by a labor dispute in which an infant was wounded by gunfire.

This was the first break-through in an industrial state of this type of legislation. Previously, such laws had found favor only in predominantly rural states. All it took was one incident of overt violence to bring Indiana into line.

No imagination is required to see how the Senate investigation of racketeering could make it clear that a labor monopoly backed up with federal law and federal court rulings can be abused as grievously as business monopolies were abused in the 19th century.

The New York Times has learned that union strategists have no plans to press a drive to amend the Taft-Hartley Act to bar state right-to-work laws in this session of Congress. They will be busy blocking proposals for new state laws barring the union shop in Delaware, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maryland. Eighteen states now have these laws.

Public opinion in favor of unionism never has been public opinion in favor of abuses of unionism. It has been the responsibility of unionists to create a climate in which abuses could not flourish. It remains to be seen whether or not they did a better job than private enterprise did in the 19th century when its flagrant abuses of the monopoly power led to enactment of anti-monopoly restraints.

Why Big Budgets?

By David Lawrence

Blame Finally Sifts Down to Selfish Public

This seems to be the era of "buck-passing" in government.

The executive says to Congress: "You cut the budget."

Lawrence

The Congress says to the President: "You cut the budget."

The American people say: "You — both Congress and the President — cut the budget. But don't touch our pet projects — our agricultural subsidies, our business subsidies, our social security subsidies, our school lunches, our highway subsidies and all the other things that make it possible for us in this community to get our share of the money that's being spent."

But whose responsibility really is it to cut the budget? The Constitution gives the President the power to "recommend" but not to legislate. The Constitution says:

"No money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in consequence of appropriations made by law."

This means that the final decision is up to Congress. But when Congress tackles the job what does it find? First, that 63 per cent of the total budget is for national security — assurance of survival in an atomic age.

NEXT, 25 PER CENT of the budget is for programs fixed by Congress in laws passed in previous years. This includes veterans' benefits, agricultural price supports, soil bank payments, grants to the states for welfare payments and interest on the federal debt.

Thus we have 88 per cent in these two categories alone and as the secretary of the treasury, George Humphrey, explained it in a speech in Detroit, "This leaves but 12 per cent of federal spending in which there is some elasticity in the opportunity to save money."

In actual totals this 12 per cent is a sum of 9.6 billions. It cannot all be eliminated.

Mr. Humphrey says: "It therefore becomes quite obvious that while some savings can always be made by ferreting out waste, extravagance and duplication, the really substantial reductions in government spending can come only from changes in programs. These programs now in effect by decision of the Congress can be changed only by new decisions of the Congress.

"The executive branch must, of course, work closely with the Congress to arrive at the best judgments as to what the various programs must provide for.

That is exactly what the Eisenhower administration is currently doing with the Congress in this campaign which has received so much public notice recently in searching to find ways and means of reconsidering existing programs so as to make substantial reductions in government spending without either impairing our security or the necessary services to be rendered the public...

"Whose job is it to cut federal spending? It is everybody's job. It needs the active support — not just the approval — of the public. Basically, it is the job of the American people, for it is with the people — at the thousands of crossroads over the nation — that the pressures for spending begin.

A group of people who want some assistance or who get into trouble of some kind, turn to the federal government for help on the mistaken theory that money from the federal government does not cost anybody anything. The pressures applied are well known and are visible in Washington every day...

"We need a campaign of public education so that the public will better understand the facts of life about federal spending. They must realize that there is no bottomless well of unlimited money in Washington...

"There is all too prevalent an attitude of 'getting our cut so long as everybody else is getting theirs'."

That's the real story of why federal budgets are high. But the picture isn't as black today as it has looked in the past.

-:-

FOR TWO YEARS the Treasury has taken in more than it has spent —and there is the same outlook for the coming year.

This, as the secretary of the treasury points out, is "the first time we have had a real prospect of three balanced budgets in succession for more than 25 years."

Also in terms of pre-war dollars —that is in the 60 cent dollars of today — the budget can be regarded as approximately 43 2 billion dollars and not 71 8 billions.

Inflation works both ways — it sends government expenses up even as it calls for a larger volume of more dollars in tax receipts. What's dangerous is not the size of the present budget by itself but what it may portend.

The current budget can be cut by perhaps two or three billions — which is something. But what is more important is to prevent the budget from going even higher next year.

This is everybody's job which means the electorate really has to keep informed so that political demagoguery doesn't produce a rivalry in spending for welfare purposes and exploitation on the stump by one political party of the cuts made by the other party.

MR. EISENHOWER isn't going to run for office again but the Republican party in Congress faces an election in 1958.

It can be defeated once more as it was in 1956 in the West because the Democrats deliberately blamed low farm prices on the failure of the Republicans to spend more money to subsidize agriculture.

Only last week the Democrats were trying to push upward in Congress the soil bank payments despite all the talk about cutting the federal budget

It's the uninformed or short-sighted, selfish voter who really is responsible for past failures to cut the budget.

A Few Drawbacks

By TRUMAN TWILL

Having come to that time of the year when they think about moving to the country, urbanites need a few pointers.

The neighbors' dogs have just as big feet and just as bad habits in the country as they have in town.

Taxes are just as high, if not higher.

The grass is no greener on the other side of the imaginary fence, and there is more of it to be pampered and barbered.

Weeds do not need to be pampered, on the other hand. Though beaten with a club night and morning, they do fine.

Flies and mosquitoes are larger and more virile.

That good, fresh air is cleaner in the winter months when it is too cold to breathe but full of dust from wind - eroded fields in the summer months, when it is wafted through all the doors and windows.

There is a limit to how much fun a grown man can have with a tractor and a power mower.

Picking strawberries is hard on the hind quarters.

Birds, cows and ruralites do not believe silence is golden.

It is no easier to rise and shine in Rosy Fingered Dawn than it is anywhere else.

No one yet has devised a way to get that wonderfully cold well water with its tasteful impurities out of the well without a lot of expensive tinkering.

Those costly sewerage systems that plague city taxpayers are costlier when they plague freeholders.

Truck gardeners who know what they are doing are more than a match for an amateur with a hoe and an aching sacro-iliac.

Poison ivy is a hardy plant with built-in perversity.

Fences in RFD are not ornamental but functional and deeply involved in both law and custom.

There is always one more promoter willing to open a building allotment where that wonderful view of a farmer's barn used to be.

All Is Not Business

Tolls Snag in Seaway

By Martin S. Hayden

Rising costs which endanger the whole pay-as-you-use plan of St. Lawrence Seaway financing are today haunting Canadian-American builders of the waterway and threatening a bitter fight in the U.S. Congress.

Behind the brewing waterway troubles are these facts:

1. Unexpected engineering problems, plus inflated contracting and interest costs, threaten to double the charges shippers will have to pay if the project is to keep its self-liquidating character.

2. Canadian determination to start charging tolls for present free passage through the Welland Canal is exciting midwestern congressmen who regard the New Welland works as a Canadian government responsibility.

3. Required new legislation to give the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation 35-million dollars additional U.S. borrowing authority, already opposed by traditional seaway enemies crying "We told you so," now faces other complications from prospective users worried lest their ships be priced off the waterway.

THESE COMPLICATIONS plagued officials of the development corporation and its Canadian counterpart, the St. Lawrence seaway authority, when they met in Washington to wrestle once more with the still-unsettled issue of tolls.

At the end of the meeting Lionel Chevrier, the Canadian authority administrator, and Lewis G. Castle, the U.S. corporation head, were saying only that the toll issue is "complicated" and still "unsettled."

From behind their meeting scene came an admission that perhaps the two negotiating teams would reach no agreement and that shippers would pay two toll systems, one for American passage and a second at a different rate for use of Canadian sections of the international works.

Both Mr. Castle and Mr. Chevrier would prefer that the toll issue stay where it is—behind the closed doors of their discussion rooms—at least until the U.S. Congress gets through approving the additional money needed if the waterway is to be officially opened in midsummer 1959. Their hopes, however, got a letdown from an old seaway friend, Rep. John A. Blatnik.

"There is no way," said Rep. Blatnik, "to keep any congressman from asking any question he wants when the new money bill comes up and I'm sure some of them will want to talk tolls."

Questioning will bring about figures that Rep. Blatnik and supporters of his new money bill have decided must be "met honestly."

-:-

ORIGINAL ESTIMATES of a total 263 million dollars Canadian-American cost, on which the self-liquidating toll plan was based, now may go as high as 450 million dollars. That in turn would boost required annual revenues from an estimated 14 6 million to 26 million dollars or more

To "why" costs are up, the builders have three answers.

Previously undetected rock and hard clay formations that have complicated U S. channel building, general cost inflation and higher interest charges that have the Canadian authority paying from 4 to 4½ per cent and the Americans 3¼ per cent on their borrowings.

Harder to answer is what can be done about it.

Admitted today by the waterway's best friends is the fact that, even against increased rates on competitive transport lines, St. Lawrence users cannot afford to pay twice the rates envisioned in the original self-liquidating plan.

Under the 1953 liquidation plan, it is recalled, the Cleveland-Pittsburgh area was calculated as the "break-even point" at which shippers from the Atlantic Coast could begin to save on overland rail and truck costs.

"Moving west from that area toward Detroit, Milwaukee and Duluth," one of the waterway's old advocates said today, "the saving would increase. But every 20 cents added to the seaway tolls moves that break-even point farther west and if tolls go high enough, they will price grain, ore and coal right off the boats."

TIED IN WITH the rate unhappiness is the Welland problem. As presented by Mr. Chevrier at the two-nation conferences, Canada's theory is that the 25 million dollars it is spending on the Welland passage will benefit many ships coming from the west but turning around before they get to the new works which are the seaway proper, those ships, the Canadians say, should help pay for what they use.

The immediate answer from American congressmen is that the United States is spending 115 million dollars enlarging the Sault locks and deepening connecting channels in the Detroit and St. Clair rivers and in Lake St. Clair to permit ocean shipping all the way west.

If Canada expects to be repaid for Welland expenditures, they argue, then why shouldn't the United States start charging "St. Lawrence Seaway" tolls to recover these expenditures?

Policy of Patience

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower is like a juggler trying to keep four glass balls in the air at the same time.

Former President Truman says he sympathizes with Eisenhower because a President has "more troubles than any man in the world."

Truman doesn't agree with how Eisenhower is handling some of his troubles. And, because other people feel the same way, that's one more trouble for Eisenhower.

—:—

HERE ARE the four glass balls:

1. Eisenhower is trying to keep Russia — or at least Russian influence — out of the Arab world of the Middle East while increasing American influence there.

2. He's trying to get Israeli troops out of Egypt without flatly promising this country will keep Egypt from attacking Israel once the latter withdraws, since such promises would certainly inflame Egypt and perhaps the Middle East

3. While juggling those balls, he's waiting for King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who recently visited him, to talk the Arabs into staying away from Russia and increasing their confidence in the good will of the United States.

4. But in the effort to get Israel out of Egypt, the Eisenhower administration has indicated it might consider sanctions against Israel if she doesn't withdraw. This may please the Arabs but it has angered friends of Israel, including many people in this country. Among them are leaders of both parties in Congress.

IN THE END it may turn out that Eisenhower—who is placing a lot of reliance on the United Nations to solve the Israeli problem — might have done better and saved trouble by asserting more positive direct leadership in the Middle East.

For example: by getting tougher with Egyptian President Nasser, who now can sit back and—apparently without making any promises—let the world fight his fight to get the Israelis out of his hair.

But some of Eisenhower's patience may be beginning to pay off a little, anyway.

TUESDAY SAUD, now in conference in Egypt with Nasser, Jordan's King Hussein and Syrian President Kuwatly, reportedly was trying to persuade them to clamp down on Communists at home while staying free of alignments with Russia or the West in foreign policy.

This shouldn't sit badly with the West, for the time being at least, if it works to keep Communist influence away from the Arabs.

Saud's argument was that this course will satisfy Arab nationalist desires for neutralism while showing good will to the West.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dulles has been trying to work out with the Israeli ambassador here some kind of agreement which would get Israel out of Egypt without sanctions and without a fight over sanctions in the U. N.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Candid TV Quiz

(The current TV craze is the candid quiz, the direct, frank and highly personal interview approaching the severity of a third degree. It was begun by Mike Wallace who sprang into overnight fame and big money through the "tell me all" routine in which the embarrassing question was the rule. Already many others are doing or planning such programs.—Ed note.)

Q — It's nice to have you on our program. You are a portrait painter of distinction and I am sure the public would like to know more about you. To begin with, are those your real teeth?

A — I didn't expect to be grilled on that item, but I will say frankly that they are mostly mine, except for two front ones borrowed from a cousin.

Q — I asked that merely as a warm-up. How long since you have been wearing a wig or am I mistaken? I trust this question does not offend you.

A — Not at all. I have been listening to these clinical programs and am fit and ready. I wear no wig. This is my own hair and I hope America is satisfied to know this.

Q — You are generally regarded as a great artist. What about the story you are really a utility right fielder for the Brooklyn farm club and can't paint a lick?

A — I play a little ball and paint a little. Before you get around to it I deny I was ever one of the Brinks robbers.

Q — How are you and the wife getting along and is it her fault?

A — We haven't traded blows in a week and I think all coast - to - coast networks are entitled to know this.

Q — The lady is your present wife, is she not, or are rumors correct?

A — I am sorry I cannot answer you.

Q — Why not?

A — I have made a contract with another program to go into that next week.

Q — That brings us to the question a lot of people are asking. It concerns a story that two of your previous wives disappeared from one of your yachts and the other through a trapdoor in your studio. What about it?

A — There was nothing to support such stories except a coroner's inquest and a district attorney's investigation. They were two very nosy guys. In fact if around today they would have had their own TV interviewing programs.

Q — What's with the story you put corn liquor on your cereal for breakfast, and sleep standing up?

A — You are confusing my breakfast with my lunch. I sleep cattycornered under a Spanish table in the rose garden. Are you sure the whole country is getting this information? I'd be embarrassed to find that here and there my voice was on the screen but no picture.

Q — I am sure you are too big a man to be embarrassed. Have you ever been barred for cheating at golf?

A — Only from the better clubs, and may I now wave at my little daughter? Thanks.

Q — It's been nice being nosy with you.

A — The enjoyment was mutual and what is a private life without national publicity.

"The Spirit of St. Louis" shows what the movies can do when they get around to an occasional respite from sex, crime and general indecency. Here is an inspiring picture with terrific punch, and wholesome in every phase. When you think of it, Lindy's epic flight across the Atlantic just about ended the American era of complete self - reliance, rugged individualism and the will to risk all. No questions about guarantees, assurances of security, etc. In Slim's boyhood no kid's first question was, "What about my pension rights?"

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — The State Department sent to all foreign embassies and legations in Washington official notification of the government's decision to place arms and armed guards on all American ships leaving these shores for the submarine zone. The popular opinion in Berlin was that the decision to arm American ships, was an "invitation for open war" and showed aggression on this country's part.

In the Mexican elections Gen. Carranza received more than 600,000 votes for the presidency. Only scattered votes were cast for his opponents. A woman suffragist was elected to the lower house of the Mexican congress, Miss Herlinda Galindo.

20 YEARS AGO — County health officials began administering the 14-day Pasteur treatment for rabies to a family of six near Green Camp after discovering what they believed to be the first mad dog in the county for nearly seven years.

A large group of sportsmen from Marion and nearby counties gathered at LaRue for the annual banquet of the LaRue Sportsmen's Club. The three speakers for the event were Earl Hanefield, state director of agriculture; "Boss" Johnson of Aurora, Ind., in charge of WLW sports and farm programs, and Arthur R. Fuller of Cleveland, chief preparator of the Cleveland Museum.

The 30 members of the Marion Fire Department joined in an extensive course to study modern and improved methods of firefighting. Classes, sponsored by the state fire marshal, were to last between four and five months.

Earl N. Hale, executive secretary of the YMCA, received wide recognition for his hobby of collecting presidential photographs and other mementoes which were symbolic of the lives and interests of the country's presidents.

10 YEARS AGO — President Truman made an appeal to Congress to supply $400,000,000 and American military advisers to Greece and Turkey, Mediterranean bulwarks against spreading Communism.

A proposal by Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach to outlaw the Communist party in this country drew strong reactions from congressmen in both parties. Meanwhile, Rep. Hartley (R.-N.J.) said he would introduce such a bill on the House floor in the near future.

Archaeologist Will Speak at Ohio Wesleyan

DELAWARE — George E. Mylonas, art and archaeology professor at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., will tell about his excavations at Mycenae when he gives the final lecture of the 1956-57 Ohio Wesleyan Lecture-Movie Series Friday, March 15, at 8:15 p.m. in Gray Chapel.

Mr. Mylonas, a native of Greece, divides his time about equally between teaching and speaking in the United States, and exploring and excavating for relics in Greece. His work has won him Fulbright, Guggenheim, American Philosophical Society grants and grants from the Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N.J.

In 1954, he made what has been pronounced the most important discovery of its kind every made on Greek soil—a four-and-one-half-foot vase, dating from 650 B.C., found in a cemetery near Athens. It is regarded by archaeologists as the finest example of proto-Attica art in existence.

In his capacity as professor of art and archaeology at Washington University, he teaches Greek and Roman art and ancient and medieval art. He was recently elected president for 1957-58 of Archeological Institute of America.

Takes Pennsylvania Job

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—William L. Batt Jr., former director of the Toledo, Ohio, Industrial Development Corp., was sworn in Monday as Pennsylvania's secretary of labor and industry. Batt succeeds John R. Torquato in the $20,000 a year job. Torquato was dismissed by Gov. George Leader in an administration dispute.

2 Women Give Aid to Galion Hospital

Nutrition Experts Came With Husbands From Sweden, Indiana

GALION — It isn't likely that the administrator of Galion Community Hospital would go to Stockholm, Sweden, to secure the services of an instructor of nutrition and dietetics to act as a consultant of dietary service.

It is not likely, either, that he would go to Indiana and get a hospital dietician as a second consultant.

YET DAVID J. WIRES, hospital administrator, has two highly trained and experienced consultants from these places who are giving volunteer services and it wasn't necessary to go outside of Galion for them.

They are Mrs. Kare Spjeldnes and Mrs. William R. Troyer. Their services are avilable to the hospital because their husbands became associated with Galion industries. The two women, together with Mrs. Jessie Essex, are consultants in dietary service and are helping Mrs. Vera Malone with her new duties as supervisor at the hospital. Mrs. Essex retired from this position recently after 15 years at the post.

Mrs. Spjeldnes came to Galion about 26 months ago from Stockholm, Sweden, to join her husband who was transferred from the L. M. Ericsson Co. of Stockholm to the North Electric Co. in Galion.

About two years ago, Mrs. Troyer's husband accepted a position as director of sales and service training at The Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co.

Both women are members of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary. Both are mothers of two growing children and have their homes to keep. They find their services at the hospital are performing a two-fold purpose for them. It is providing an opportunity to keep alive their technical knowledge and a way to give volunteer services for the auxiliary without having to be away from their homes full time.

MRS. SPJELDNES has degrees from the University of Stockholm, the University of Aarkus in Denmark and from the University of Wisconsin. Before her marriage she spent two years at the latter university where she was a fellowship student of the American-Scandinavian Foundation, and a scholarship student of the Swedish-American Foundation. Her experience in Sweden was teaching nutrition and dietetics in two nurses' schools and as consultant for all dieticians in Stockholm which included some 10,000 patients in 30 hospitals.

Mrs. Spjeldnes and her husband have two young daughters, Solveig, 5, and Ingrid, 2.

Mrs. Troyer was graduated from Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., in 1939. In 1940 she went to Oregon where she was a student intern of the Oregon Dietetic Association at Portland. For a year Mrs. Troyer served as therepeutic dietician at Ball Memorial Hospital in Muncie, Ind. The Troyers who have two sons, William, 12, and Robert, 10, lived in Silver Springs, Md., and Indianapolis, Ind., before coming to Galion.

DISCUSSING THE NEXT DAY'S MENU at Galion Community Hospital are Mrs. William R. Troyer (left) and Mrs. Kare Spjeldnes. Mrs. Troyer is from Indiana and Mrs. Spjeldnes is from Sweden. They were both dietary and nutrition consultants before their marriage. Since their husbands were transferred to Galion the women have donated their services to the hospital.

Change Is Proposed In Committee's Name

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Humphrey (D - Minn) today proposed changing the name of the Senate Foreign Relations committee to the Committee on International Relations.

It would be "more palatable to our friends abroad," he said in a statement.

"Even before World War II, although some people did not realize it," Humphrey added, "we had reached a point in American history where our dealings with other nations were no longer 'foreign' to us. . .

"We Americans still talk too much about our 'foreign policy.' The phrase is obsolete. It is not only obsolete, but it is disruptive. It creates suspicion and fosters distrust."

Plans Expansion

NEW YORK (AP)—Allied Chemical & Dye Corp spent 77 million dollars for plant expansion and improvement last year and expenditures in 1957 may be somewhat larger, according to the annual report to stockholders Monday.

The pamphlet report listed 1956 earnings of $47,004,945—equal to $4.74 a share on sales of $668,937,533. This compared with earnings of $52,127,975 or $5.28 a share and sales of $628,514,087 in 1955.

Richwood Council Passes Rezoning, Tile Repair Laws

RICHWOOD — The Richwood Council Monday night voted to rezone the site on S. Franklin St. owned by Tommy DeGood for use as a novelty shop. The action was made with the provision that no opposition is presented at a public hearing. The date for the hearing will be published in the near future.

Council voted to purchase and deliver the necessary title for the replacement of broken tile on the Jess Roberts and Prichard farms. The labor for installing the tile is to be furnished by the farms. Some of the village's surface water drains through the tile, councilmen explained.

The sewer committee will make recommendations to council in the next few weeks on installing a burner at the sewage disposal plant. The burner would be used to burn off excess sewer gas.

Council suggested to a member of the park board present at the meeting that the park board hold expenses to a minimum this season. It was reported that the park last year operated at a $1,156 loss. The park board member suggested that the swimming season be cut from the normal 80-90 day period to one of 60 days in order to reduce costs.

Charles Adams reported that several businessmen in the village had indicated they wished some sort of time restriction on parking on Main St. Council asked Mr. Adams to obtain petitions signed by a majority of the businessmen asking for the restrictions. Mr. Adams indicated he would present such a petition to council at its next meeting.

3 Killed in Crash

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three persons were killed early today and a fourth was injured in a traffic accident in nearby Delhi Township. Dead are Andrew Schackleford, 19; his wife, Joyce, 20, and Edward L. Scott, 20.

The injured man, identified as Ronald Smith, 19, was taken to St. Mary Hospital where aides said his injuries were not serious. Further details were not immediately available.

Elm Valley Plans New High School, To Seek Location

ASHLEY — The Elm Valley Board of Education Saturday night decided to accept the recommendation of the citizens which met in December to build a new high school in the Elm Valley School District.

Board members will look for a location somewhere south of Ashley. They made a trip recently visiting new buildings which have been constructed. They will visit two more, Jonathan Adler at Plain City and Northeastern in Clark County Wednesday. Others being contemplated are Madison School near London in Madison County, and the Watkins Memorial School in Licking County.

Board members are familiar with the nearby Olentangy, Big Walnut and Worthington buildings.

The increasing enrollment in Elm Valley district, makes it imperative that more facilities be provided quickly, board members said.

Sorority Holds Tea To Honor Senior Students

Senior girls of the city and county schools who are planning to enter the field of teaching were guests Saturday afternoon of members of Eta chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma sorority. The program and tea was in the community rooms of the West Town Branch of the National City Bank where bouquets of spring flowers provided a colorful setting.

In an informal welcome Miss Audrey Bolander, president, congratulated the young women on their choice of a career and introduced their hostess group as an honorary teachers sorority whose project is to honor and help prospective teachers.

Guest speaker was Miss Carolyn Ulsh of E. Church St., an instructor of Latin in the schools at Mount Vernon, and adviser to the Future Teachers of the school. She gave a talk and showed pictures taken on her tour of Greece and Italy last summer.

For the musical part of the program Larry Bryant of Rt. 1, Nevada, entertained with a group of marimba numbers including "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," "Beautiful Dreamer" and "Stardust." He also played during the social hour. In a get-acquainted contest, the prize was won by Miss Heidi Weinbaum.

Guest favors were white carnation corsages. Tea was served from a table centered with an arrangement of pink stocks and white spring flowers and lighted with green tapers in crystal candelabra. Miss Bolander presided.

Mrs. Norman Fogt of the guild gave a talk on John 31-32, and Mrs. Laubner and Mrs. C. D. Hoffman sang a duet. A hymn by the group and the Lord's Prayer completed the program. The Lenten offering was contributed to the Mission Work of the American Lutheran Church.

Kindergarten To Be Started For Crestline

CRESTLINE — The Crestline Board of Education Monday night voted to institute a kindergarten in the new North Elementary School. It will be the first kindergarten in the village school system.

The board will hire a qualified teacher for the class. Members decided to open the kindergarten for children who will be 5 by Sept. 1. Transportation for the kindergarten pupils must be furnished to and from school by the parents.

Guy Kent of Modern Manual Maintenance of Mansfield was awarded the contract for sanding and finishing the gymnasium floor at the Central School. He submitted a bid of $595. Work will begin on May 27.

Employes in the school cafeteria requested a salary increase but the board decided to adjust their salaries at the same time as the wage scale for teachers for next year is drawn up.

One-half credit was authorized in instrumental music for students in the band or in the orchestra. They previously were allowed one-fourth credit.

The board decided not to advertise for bids on a new school bus until after March 28 when a new set of regulations is to go into effect.

Supt. Cecil Ratcliff was authorized to obtain an estimate of the cost of painting and plastering various rooms in the Central Building and report to the board. He also is to get estimates on having the press box roof tarred and other repairs made at the athletic field. He also was told to use his own judgment in hiring extra help for the summer months for maintenance of the buildings and grounds.

Supt. Ratcliff was asked to try to secure a music supervisor and assistant supervisor and an art supervisor for the fall term.

Mr. Ratcliff and Alvin Fringel, a board member, were appointed to see that the grounds were fertilized and seeded at the athletic field and all the schools including the North Elementary School.

The board authorized the purchase of two 5-head showers, one for the boys' shower room and the other for the girls' shower at the gymnasium.

7 Crawford County Men Enter Armed Services

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's March draft quota of seven men, including five volunteers, were sworn into the armed services at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Monday.

The group included Donald M. Palm, Milton A. Schiffler, Stanley W. Sipe, Robert D. Koons, and Donald E. Smith, all of near Bucyrus; Dubne H. Rheinbolt of near Tiro and Warren E. Long of Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. M. C. Melcher, draft board clerk, said the youths probably will be sent to Fort Knox, Ky., for basic training or reassignment.

Homer Bates Selected Head Of Engineers

Officers for the new year, headed by Homer Bates as president, were elected when the Marion Chapter, Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, held a dinner meeting Monday night at the Globe Hotel in Mount Gilead.

Named to serve with Mr. Bates were Howard Cary, vice president; Harry Carey, secretary and treasurer; Wayne Kuhn, state trustee; Loy Rhoads, alternate state trustee; Harry Stiles, engineering director, and J. W. Adams, E. I. T. director.

Also in the business meeting, the group discussed making a recommendation to the Marion City Council that a building code for the city be adopted. Walter Warne of the membership committee reported on the progress in membership and introdced five new members.

An announcement was made of the 79th annual convention of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers to be held March 28-30 in Columbus.

Guests were present from the Hydraulic Press Mfg. Co., of Mount Gilead and included Gene Arnold, vice president and general manager; Burk Weisand, chief engineer, plastic, and Kenneth Rexford, chief engineer, electrical.

Following a short talk by Mr. Arnold, the group toured the No. 1 and No. 2 plants of the Hydraulic Press Co.

3 Pocket Radios Taken From Appliance Store

Three pocket radios, valued at $144.85, were reported stolen Monday from Warner's Electrical Appliance store at 136 S. Main St.

Mrs. Paul Warner told police that two men entered the store about 5 p.m. She said one man requested to look at appliances in the rear of the store while the other waited in front.

As she was showing the merchandise, the man in front called out that he was leaving. Shortly after the second man left the store she noticed the three radios were missing, police said.

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

MARY MAGDALENE

"And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils . . . and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance."
—Luke VIII:2,3

"Women loved Jesus," says Papini in his incomparable "Life of Christ." "They would have liked to be His sisters, His servants, His slaves; to serve Him, to set bread before Him, to pour Him wine, to wash His garments, to annoint His tired feet and His flowing hair."

Next to His mother, the woman who was nearest to Jesus, who followed Him fearlessly to the very foot of the cross, and to whom He appeared first when He rose from the dead, was Mary Magdalene.

She was so called because she came from the town of Magdala, in Galilee, where she lived during the early part of her life.

Scripture does not include many details of her life before she met Jesus, but most Biblical scholars agree that she was a woman of considerable means and position in her society.

Although popular opinion has long made her a kind of arch-type for the "repentant sinner" and fallen woman, there is not a shred of evidence to support such a view.

On the contrary, it is more likely that she was, as one ancient writer says, an educated woman, daughter of a wealthy Greek ship owner, who taught Platonic philosophy.

In any event, from the moment she met Jesus, until His final reappearance from the tomb, she was His devoted and intimate follower.

She accompanied Him and ministered to Him on His last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem, and, together with Mary, His mother, and John, the Beloved disciple, wept for Him on Calvary.

After the Crucifixion, she helped prepare His body for entombment. And, as Papini says so beautifully:

"Many loving tears fell upon that face where in the calm paleness of death the old sweetness shone once more, and their tears washed it with water purer than that from Joseph's well."

Lions Club Shown Movie on Hawaii

A film, "Holiday In Hawaii," produced by United Air Lines, was shown to members of the Marion Lions Club when they met Monday at Hotel Harding.

Thomas Pendergast of Marion, who has an interest in aviation as a hobby, presented the film. He was introduced by T. E. Connor, club program chairman for the day.

Robert Scott, Lions International Counsellor, introduced Marion's candidate for the office of junior deputy district governor, Robert Cripps. A member of the Lions Club 10 years, he has had a perfect attendance and is a past president.

An announcement was made of the club's charter night program to be held Saturday night at the Marion Country Club. A special surprise program is being planned.

Guests were Sgt. Jack Hughes, Marine recruiting officer, William Barnhart and Richard Huddle, all of Marion.

Nurses of District Hear Talk by Dr. Merchant

Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, Marion physician and surgeon, was guest speaker when the Seventh District, Ohio State Nurses Association, met Monday night in the auditorium at Marion General Hospital.

His subject was "Hospital Disaster Plans."

In the business meeting which followed, tentative plans were made to visit the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation in June.

For the social hour, the St. Patrick's Day theme was carried out in decorations. Hostesses were Mrs. Stella Pfleiderer, Miss Florence Stough, Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, Mrs. Naomi Williams and Mrs. Nina Faulkner.

Strike Talks Off

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators failed to produce any settlement Monday in the six-week-old strike at the Linde Air Products Co. plant in nearby Essington. The strike also hit Linde plants in Youngstown, Ohio; Kittanning, Pa.; Tonawanda, N. Y.; and Moundsville, W. Va. No date was set for further talks.

Veterans at Galion Offered Bonus Aid

GALION — Korean veterans of this community are being helped in filling out their bonus applications by Scarbrough Post of the American Legion. The hours are from 1 to 9 p.m. each day at the Legion Home. Announcement of the service was made at the regular meeting of the post Monday night for which Commander Charles H. Faries presided.

Several activities were announced including a spring concert by the Legion Band, to be held April 7 at 3 p.m. in the Senior High School auditorium. The 30-piece musical group is directed by Don Funk.

The post voted to again sponsor a Junior Legion baseball team this summer. It was voted to furnish a dance floor and refreshments for the all-night party activity which the parents are sponsoring for juniors and seniors of Galion High School following the annual Junior-Senior reception.

Wins Scholarship

WASHINGTON (AP) — David W. Deamer, 17, of Westerville, Ohio, is the winner of a $400 scholarship in the 16th annual Science Talent Search. The scholarship was presented by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. Deamer was one of 40 winners selected from among 20,145 high school seniors in the talent search.

3 Hurt in Crash

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—Three persons suffered cuts and bruises when a slow-moving Erie freight train struck the car they were riding in and dragged it more than 500 feet Monday night at nearby West Salem. Two other occupants of the car were unhurt.

Traffic on busy U. S. 42 was tied up for half an hour. The injured were Sgt. Frank E. Poirer, 51, of Ft. Knox, Ky., his daughter, Miss Constance Poirer, and his grandson, Donald Poirer, 3.

Ike Seeking New Defenses Against Communism in Mideast

Ambassador Slates Talks In 18 Nations

James P. Richards Selected by President To Sell His Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sent Ambassador James P. Richards to the Middle East today to discuss with the governments of 18 nations his plan for building new defenses against the pressures of Soviet communism.

In a departure statement Richards declared the President had instructed him "to present and discuss his proposals to promote peace, freedom and economic well being of the area."

First Parley in Beirut

His first conferences are scheduled in Beirut, Lebanon, on Thursday.

The former chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said "discussions will be held only with governments who wish them, and we will not try to force our views upon others."

He said that authority granted by Congress in approving Eisenhower's Middle East plan "will enable us to undertake some new and more effective programs which will materially contribute to the strengthening of the area."

Reject Soviet Proposal

The stage was set for his departure with the publication Monday of a note to Russia rejecting a Soviet proposal for a joint Big Four policy declaration on the Middle East.

The United States declared in the note that it "would not wish to be party to an attempt by the great powers, as suggested by the U.S.S.R., to arrogate to themselves decisions on matters of vital importance to the nations of the Middle East."

Eisenhower asked Richards, former Democratic representative from South Carolina, to go to the Middle East primarily to explain what he has in mind for future United States policy under the resolution just passed by Congress.

Agrees With Ike

In this, Congress agreed with an Eisenhower proposal that the United States be prepared to use military force if necessary to oppose any "overt aggression" in the area by international communism. It also approved the potential expenditure between now and July 1 of 200 million dollars in military and economic aid in the area.

Richards and the State, Defense and foreign aid experts traveling with him will be able to promise U. S. assistance for specific projects requested by the governments they visit.

Marion Photographer Awarded High Honor

Two photographs by Robert F. Lowry of near Marion have been selected by the Photographers' Association of America for display at their international convention March 24-29 in Washington, D.C.

A jury of selection chose Mr. Lowry's photos of a gear and teeth of a gear from among 5,000 pictures submitted by photographers as their best work in 1956. Some 1,410 pictures were accepted for display.

Mr. Lowry, a photographer at the Marion Power Shovel Co., also is awarded merits toward a Master of Photography degree for his photos. The degree requires 25 merits.

Format Changed

Telephone Directories Being Distributed Here

Distribution of the new telephone directory for Marion and nearby communities to be used during the next year is being conducted this week by the General Telephone Co. of Ohio.

All homes and places of business are scheduled to receive the new directories by Friday when they will go into effect.

The format of the 1957 directory has been changed entirely from last year's issue. The size has increased from 6 by 9¼ inches to 9 by 11 inches and the cover is a fawn color. The inside front cover provides rates for many additional long distance points that are frequently called from Marion and the inside back cover has calendars for a three-year period, plus a space to note numerous "frequently called numbers" for added convenience to the telephone user.

EMERGENCY CALLS and service calls on page one of the directory are located strategically for quick reference and are widely spaced to enable the telephone customer to obtain important information with a minimum of hunting and delay.

Other pertinent information helpful to the telephone user is located on pages two through five, such as how to place calls between exchanges, dialing instructions and information regarding long distance calls.

The yellow pages, or Classified Telephone Directory, has increased approximately 20 per cent over last year, providing a "Buyers Guide" for the public.

Approximately 19,520 directories are being delivered by the Rapid Transit Co. of Erie, Pa., on a door-to-door basis.

—:—

THE NEW DIRECTORY continues to interlock listings, giving all subscribers alphabetically regardless of the community in which they reside. This aids considerably someone who is hunting for the name of an individual, but does not have his address, and is a time-proven method of directory arrangement.

Each page now has three columns of listings, which holds to a minimum the hunting and leafing of pages necessary to locate a listing, making it easier for a subscriber to find the proper number.

The 1957 directory contains many new listings, number changes, address changes, and new information which will aid anyone using the telephone. The General Telephone Company of Ohio urges everyone to consult the new directory before placing a call and help prevent "reaching a wrong number."

3 Firms

using reinforced concrete pipe in the Forest Lawn Blvd. sewers.

There were a total of five alternates and a base bid possible on the Indiana Ave. sewer. Firms bidding on this project were: Haddad Construction Co. of Columbus, C. C. Plumley Contractors of Marion and McManus. Only McManus and Haddad bid on Alternate F. Haddad's bid using this method was $534,335, some $140,000 higher than the McManus bid.

McManus bids ranged from the low of $390,639 for Alternate F to a high of $470,421 using Alternate A. This called for the use of vitrified pipe in a tunnel. Haddad's low bid was on the base bid, which was to construct the entire sewer by tunneling and using monolithic concrete pipe.

Haddad's bid on this method was $408,085. Their bids ranged from this low to the high of $549,045 using Alternate E, calling for vitrified sewer pipe in both open cut and tunnel construction. McManus bid $412,419 on this alternate. Plumley did not bid on it.

Plumley's bids on the Indiana Ave. sewer were based only on Alternate A and Alternate B which was to use reinforced concrete pipe in tunnel construction. His bid on A was $537,270 compared with Haddad's $452,215 and McManus' $470,421. On B, Plumley bid $534,328 compared with $437,505 for Haddad and $441,001 for McManus.

There were four bidders on each of the two possible methods specified for construction of the Forest Lawn Blvd. trunk sewer. They included the three that bid on the Indiana Ave. sewer plus the low bidder, Verderberger. One method specified for this sewer was to use extra strength vitrified pipe in open cut construction. Verderberger's bid on this method was $98,101 compared with $101,580 by Haddad, $121,212 by Plumley and $130,974 by McManus.

The other method was to use reinforced concrete pipe instead of the vitrified pipe. It was the method on which Verderberger was awarded the contract on his low bid of $87,744, according to Mr. Bigelow. Other bids on this method were: Haddad, $96,195; Plumley, $107,749 and McManus, $118,409.

The bids on the Forest Lawn Blvd. relief sewer were straight bids with no alternates and included two other bidders in addition to those named above who bid on the other projects. They were: Tiffin Excavation, which was the low bidder at $21,158; and G. M. Scott, Inc. of Shelby. Other bids on this project were: Haddad, $22,455; Plumley, $23,653; Verderberger, $23,702; McManus, $25,732; and Scott, $31,361.

He said he expects to conduct classroom polls among seniors in Marion and surrounding communities and also to contact recent high school graduates to determine their interest in a night program which, if established here, would offer the equivalent of the first two years of college.

Approval for the reimbursement of instrumental instruction personnel for the summer band program was granted, giving George Lane, director, a $300 salary; Edward Miller, assistant director, $100, and Homer Huffman, uniform supplier, $50.

Mr. Lane recieved a $50 increase over his salary granted by the board last year. Mr. Miller is a new addition to the summer band staff and Mr. Huffman remains in the same capacity as previously with no salary increase.

Permission again was granted for the City Recreation Commission to use the playground facilities on Pearl St., Glenwood and George Washington Schools for the summer recreation program.

Paul O'Rourke, Mr. Brown noted, will be the official responsible for care of the school equipment.

—:—

THE BOARD VOTED to extend the use of the music room at the high school through April to the orchestra class conducted by Homer Huffman, now functioning under the Adult Education program. It was pointed out that the present group hopes to enlarge and form a civic symphony.

A request from Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wuescher of 429 Girard Ave. that their daughter, who will enter first grade in the fall, be released from the Marion city school system to attend classes at Cardington was denied.

Board members pointed out during a discussion of the request that since the problem concerned did not involve curriculum difficulties, release could not be justified under the present tuition policy.

Approval was granted for the superintendent to authorize the printing of an annual report concerning schools again this spring. The report, to appear in The Star, will deal with the teaching of science from grades 1-12.

—:—

IN OTHER business, the board approved the assignment of Mrs. Leona Marshall, a cook at Vernon School, to the position of head cook at the Olney School cafeteria, effective upon completion of the addition.

Mr. Brown estimated that the building addition at Olney would be completed about April 1, extending cafeteria facilities to students there.

In a report concerning the kindergarten program, Mr. Brown pointed out that planning was moving along smoothly and investigation of the proposed summer program would be completed in time for definite action on behalf of the board at the April meeting.

The payment of bills totaling $35,810 was approved for the month of February. All members were present at the session.

Sentenced to Prison

MILWAUKEE (AP) — James R. Darrah, 55, wanted in Ohio, California and Canada on bad check charges, drew three years in prison Monday after pleading guilty to five counts of impersonating an Internal Revenue agent. He was charged with obtaining $110 from persons who cashed checks for him on the basis of his impersonation.

Rev. Eyster

viser for this entire personnel across the land, Bishop Werner said.

An important phase of his work will be developing annual conference, district, and local church concern in the hospital and home services. In addition, he will be working to strengthen bonds between churches and the hospitals and homes.

The Methodist Church has in this country 74 hospitals, 80 homes for the aged, 48 homes for children and seven homes for youth and deaconesses. Visits to these homes, to the various conferences of the church and to board sessions will involve many miles of travel for Rev. Eyster, who also will be responsible for literature concerning the various institutions.

HIS WIDE experience in various fields of the ministry has included pastorates, education and youth work and other executive positions and he has taken part in preaching missions for the church abroad.

Admitted to the ministry on trial in the North-East Ohio Conference in 1935, he was received into that conference in full connection in 1937.

After graduation from Ohio Northern University at Ada with a bachelor of arts degree in 1934, he studied at Boston University School of Theology where he earned his bachelor of sacred theology degree in 1937. He was graduated also from the Garrett Biblical Institute and Northwestern University at Evanston and Chicago, Ill.

From 1937 to 1940, he served as Wesley Foundation pastor at Kent State University, Kent, O., then was pastor of the Attica Church from 1940 to 1943. He was pastor of First Methodist Church in Columbiana from 1943 to 1945 and during the 1944-45 conference year he was youth director for North-East Ohio Conference.

IN 1945, HE transferred to the Wisconsin Conference where he served as executive secretary for the board of education, 1945-47, and in 1948 was executive director for the Interboard Council of that conference. Returning to Ohio in 1949, he served as pastor of First Methodist Church at Bowling Green until 1953, when he came to Marion.

Currently, he is serving on several boards and agencies of the Ohio Conference, including the board of education, board of hospitals and homes and commission on Christian vocation. He is a member of the conference committee on church press, newspapers and radio, the urban life committee, the Interboard Council and the Council of the Interdenominational Temple of Goodwill. He also is program adviser on citizenship for the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

In Marion, he is a member of Rotary Club and of the Masonic Lodge, he is a former president of the Marion County Council of Churches, was chairman of the Marion County Ministerial Association's social action committee, was chairman for Sub-district 5 of the Lima District three years and was a trustee for the Lima District Methodist Union.

Bishop Werner said of his departure for the new assignment, "Mr. Eyster has both experience and ability in the work of promotion and programization and with it he has a deep spiritual conviction concerning the place of the Christian ideal in the ministry of healing and service."

Mrs. Eyster is active in work of the local church and the district also and she is a member of Literature Study Club here. The Eysters have three sons, John, a Harding High School student, James, who is in Eber Baker Junior High School and Jerry, a grade school pupil at Vernon.

Canadian Dollar Rises On Surge of U.S. Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar was poised today at its highest level in 24 years.

It was quoted at the close of trading Monday at $1.04 21-32 in terms of the U. S. dollar. The new high came following a steady ascent since January and compared with the 1933 high of $1.05 5-8.

The strength of Canada's dollar has been attributed to the flood of U. S. money going into Canada for investment. Also canadian business has been actively raising funds in the U. S. capital market because of lower interest rates prevailing south of the border.

Killed at Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—George W. Prosser, 39, father of three children, was killed today in an accident at the Fisher Body plant of General Motors Corp. here.

Prosser suffered a broken neck while at work on an iron press at the plant, and was pronounced dead on arrival at General Hospital.

Company officials said they believed Prosser was cutting a piece of angle iron on the press when one end of the iron struck him in the neck.

Sewer Engineer Added

accepted and that he understood Mr. Bigelow was planning to sign contracts for the projects on Tuesday. He also said that the money for the projects already was appropriated but that council approval of the ordinance was necessary actually to permit it to be spent.

R. G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, said that he felt it was the responsibility of the safety-service director to decide on the best and lowest bid and it was not council's place to assume such responsibilities.

Cites Right To Know

Mr. Corwin said that he felt that both as a citizen and as a councilman he had a right to know exactly where every cent of sewer money is being spent and the assurance there will be enough to complete all the projects proposed to be paid from the $1,135,000 bond issue.

He based this remark on an earlier statement by Mr. Bigelow that the bids for the projects were some 16 per cent above the engineer's estimates of the cost. John Courtright Jr., councilman-at-large, challenged this, noting that the survey report estimated the costs at $462,000.

Mr. Bigelow said that this amount included contingency estimates and that if this were considered as a part of the construction estimates, the bids were only about three and one-half per cent over the estimates.

He noted that without considering the contingency funds, the engineers' final estimates of the project construction costs totaled $438,565 or some 16 per cent below the actual bids.

Bids Might Be High

Mr. Corwin said it was conceivable that bids for future projects might also be high and he felt that council should control the expenditure of money from the sewer improvement fund to assure that as many of the proposed sewer projects as possible are built.

Richard Lister, councilman-at-large, asked if the bids on the Indiana Ave.-Forest Lawn Blvd. projects were high because the city had set a completion date on the project.

Mr. Bigelow said he didn't think so and declared that the contractors who submitted low bids are capable and competent and should be able to finish such a project on time. He said he didn't feel that the bids were jacked up to cover any penalties the contractors might have to pay for failure to complete the project on time.

In answer to another question by Council President Don Quaintance, Mr. Bigelow said he was fully satisfied with the bids.

Mr. Corwin said that he felt there should be a top limit on the amount that could be spent for the first project and moved to amend the ordinance to set the limit at $600,000. The amendment carried 6-3 with Harold Smith, First Ward; James Jenkins, Second Ward, and Herman Rinehart, Third Ward, voting against it. In a subsequent vote approving the ordinance as amended, the vote was unanimous.

There was similar lengthy discussion on the ordinance to employ the sanitary engineer and the two inspectors. It started after it was noted that the ordinance contained no salary figures or starting date for the new employes.

Mr. Haldeman said that the service director previously told council that an engineer could be employed at $650 a month and the inspectors for $15 a day. He also pointed out that Mr. Bigelow estimated it would cost $1,100 a month for the sanitary engineer alone if he were employed by Floyd G. Browne and Associates.

Mr. Corwin said he wanted to know exactly what these three new city employes would be used for.

Mr. Bigelow said they would be used as a resident engineer and inspectors on the forthcoming projects and in any spare time they would be used to make a survey to locate cross-connections between sanitary and storm water sewers in the city.

He also pointed out that a letter from Floyd G. Browne and Associates on Feb. 12 pointed out that the matter of providing for the resident engineer should be settled as soon as possible.

Asked what the overall cost of employing the sanitary engineer would be to the city, including administrative costs and fringe benefits, Mr. Bigelow said he estimated it at about $775 a month.

Highest Paid Employe

It was pointed out later that at a monthly salary of $650 a month, the sanitary engineer would be the highest paid of all city employes, elected or appointed. This would be an annual salary of $7,800 a year, $1,300 a year higher than the top salaries paid the mayor and the city engineer of $6,500 a year.

Mr. Corwin said that employing the three men would be setting up an administrative department before any sewer projects actually were started and that he was opposed to it until "you can show me we actually need them."

Emmett Osterholt, Sixth Ward, said he favored setting up the three new positions because he understood that with them, it might be possible for the city engineering department to design some of the future sewers without the need of employing consulting engineers. He asked City Engineer John Ruth if this were true. Mr. Ruth replied, "It's possible."

Mr. Bigelow said that while the city engineering department would be competent to do the designing, there is a time problem facing the city. He said having the city department do it rather than the consulting engineers might delay future projects four to six months. He said he felt certain the Browne and Associates could complete detailed plans for Silver St. projects in as little as two or three weeks.

Urges Slowdown

Mr. Osterholt said he saw no reason to rush into future projects and felt council should slow down and examine future projects more closely.

But he also pointed out that either the city must employ the resident engineer for the present project or the consulting engineers must employ him. He indicated he preferred that the city employ him.

Mr. Lister advocated that the ordinance be defeated because he said he felt the resident engineer and inspectors should be provided by Floyd G. Browne and Associates, the consulting engineers having general supervision over the projects.

Mr. Bigelow said that sanitary engineers are "hard to come by" and that if council defeated the ordinance that he could not take the responsibility for having one on the job when the Indiana Ave. and Forest Lawn Blvd. projects started.

He said that he has attempted to build up the city engineering department into a competent, capable department that will be able to do the designing for all city projects including streets, sewers and buildings. He said that a year ago the department had only the engineer, his assistant and an outside inspector. The department now has added two more employes and further additions will make possible the elimination of the necessity of employing consulting engineers for any project, he said.

Sees Savings

Mr. Rinehart said as he saw it employment of the engineer by the city would be a saving and if the job became unnecessary it could be abolished at some future date.

Mr. Lister said he has yet to see the first time the city abolished any position once it was created.

Mr. Haldeman said, "This is the first time the city administration has exhibited any leadership and I'm going to back them up in their request."

He said that if council found out later that the men aren't being used as the administration said they will be, council can then criticize the administration severely. But, he added, council should not try to "hamstring" the administration without good cause.

Mr. Corwin then said that in view of the conversation he could see nothing else to do but to go along with the request.

Mr. Courtright said that he would hold Mr. Bigelow personally responsible for all actions of the sanitary engineer. "This could be a gravy train," he said, and he added that there should be an exact accounting of every cent spent on the projects.

Mr. Rinehart asked if perhaps it wouldn't be well to set up a list of qualifications for the sanitary engineer. Mr. Bigelow said that the man he had in mind for the job was a registered engineer and was fully qualified.

Before a vote was taken on the ordinance, clauses providing a salary of $650 a month for the sanitary engineer and $15 a day for the inspectors were inserted in the ordinance. Also inserted was April 1 as the starting date for the new jobs.

Council adopted the ordinance 9-0 and afterwards Mr. Bigelow said that as soon as possible, after the new engineer starts his duties, a special session of council will be called so that the councilmen may meet him and ask any questions of him they may have.

More Study Due

The decision to send the resolutions of necessity for the Silver St., Pearl St. and Davids St.-Bellefontaine Ave. sewers to committee for further study came after brief discussion.

Mr. Bigelow said that he previously favored holding up legislation for these projects but after talking with Herman Rinehart, sewer committee chairman, had decided that the resolutions of necessity should be adopted. He said this doesn't authorize any construction but merely declares council's intention to build them and gets one of the necessary legislative steps out of the way.

Mr. Osterholt asked Mr. Bigelow if he didn't think that the next project should be the extension of the Forest Lawn Blvd. trunk sewer south from Mt. Vernon Ave. to the city limits.

Mr. Bigelow said as he recalled, there was previous agreement that the next project should be Silver St. But later, he said he didn't think the construction of the Forest Lawn Blvd. extension would jeopardize financing of the other projects. He added that he felt council should not take any action on the extension unless the property owners petitioned for it.

Mr. Corwin said he felt that before any future projects are declared necessary, the council should discuss them with the sanitary engineer it had just authorized to be employed.

A vote was then taken on a motion to refer the three resolutions to the sewer committee. It was adopted by a vote of 7-2. Against it were James Jenkins and Herman Rinehart.

House Asking Ike's Advice On Budget Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House expected to vote today on a plea to President Eisenhower for advice on where his $71,800,000,000 budget can be cut substantially.

The plea is embodied in a resolution approved Monday by the Rules Committee and last Friday by the Appropriations Committee by partisan votes.

The House is expected to pass it over Republican opposition.

Republicans have assailed it as a "buck-passing" proposal to take Congress off the spot in a growing public demand for economy and tax reduction.

Democrats sponsored the resolution in what some conceded privately is a move to take the offensive in the economy drive. The House Republican Policy Committee and an independent group of 57 House Republicans previously had urged Congress to make substantial budget cuts.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee called the resolution "a very moderate, modest request."

He conceded the proposal was without precedent. But he said it also was without precedent for a president to send Congress a budget and then indicate that it could be cut.

Rep. Allen of Illinois, senior Republican on the rules group, said it looked to him as if the Appropriations Committee "is trying to shirk its responsibility" for cutting budgets.

Fast Time

also, but said he felt Marion should decide the issue regardless of Columbus voters' action. He noted that Cleveland will be on daylight time and that considerable business is transacted between Marion and Cleveland firms.

John P. Courtright Jr., councilman-at-large, indicated he, too, felt the city should consider legislation to adopt fast time. He said that a number of other cities in this area are considering similar action. Most of them are basing local action on what decision is made by voters in the state capital.

He said it would be somewhat confusing if Marion were on slow time and other cities in the area, including Columbus, were on fast time.

It was pointed out that a number of cities in the northeast section of the state adopt fast time each year.

John Corwin, Fifth Ward, said that it should also be noted that as you move closer to the next time zone, the need for daylight time lessens. The Eastern Standard Time zone ends near Ohio's western border, Mr. Corwin indicated that areas in the western most sections of a time zone enjoy more daylight hours in relation to the clock than those in the eastern sections of a zone.

Those voting against Mr. Lister's motion were: James Jenkins, Second Ward, and Ralph Williams, Fourth Ward.

White Teenagers Beat Negro Student to Death

CHICAGO (AP)—Alvin Palmer, a 17-year-old Negro high school student, was beaten to death Monday night by a pack of white teenagers.

Palmer died of a skull fracture today in Holy Cross Hospital.

A passer-by gave this account to Detectives Clyde Wheeler and Kenneth Fryer:

Palmer was waiting for a bus near his home on the Southwest Side when the gang of eight sauntered past.

They returned, surrounded him, and one of them smashed his head with a single blow. The witness told the officers that not a word was spoken.

Wheeler said the nature of the wound indicated the weapon was a hammer.

He said:

"It is not my duty to name any particular officer. It is up to the director and the chief of police to know whether the department is functioning properly in policing meters."

"It is my duty to call it to their attention if I see that they are not being policed properly."

Mr. Williams said he had checked meters four times daily last week from Tuesday through Friday. He said he was not exactly sure on which day he followed the officer.

"We might as well take those meters out if we're not going to take care of them," the councilman said.

Identifies Composer

VIENNA (AP) — An American musicologist reportedly has identified the composer of the "Jena" symphony, sometimes attributed to Ludwig von Beethoven, as a 19th Century German named Friedrich Witt. The Austrian Press Agency said H. C. Robbins Landon's research established Witt as the composer of the work. Witt died in 1837.

Machinist Union

By Victor Riesel

Me, I'm proud to carry honorary membership cards in the Sing Sing Prison Guards Union and the Screen Extras Guild. True, they're not like Jimmy Petrillo's solid gold honorary cards but the sentiment is worth more. So is the fact that the International Association of Machinists has a local, one of its 2,069, which humbled me by naming the union after me after I was hit.

VICTOR RIESEL

You'll forgive me this bit of personal history but I want to make the point that everything inside labor isn't a slice of that Portland crowd.

That's why it gave me a charge, as they say in rock and roll, when the government said to Dave Beck, look don't bother, we're going to send a fellow by the name of Rudy Faupl of the Machinists to that International Labor Organization meeting in Hamburg, Germany.

Mr. Faupl won't embarrass his people, the government or labor itself.

His union is big. It is powerful. It is wealthy. It has a modern headquarters in Washington which is palatial without showing signs of the nouveau riche.

IT HAS A CODE to guard every penny of the 900,000 men and women who are dexterously putting together our aircraft, bombers, and missiles—guided and unguided. I'd like to tell you about that code:

This union's money can be invested only in U.S. or Canadian government bonds or in those securities approved for investment by trust funds by the U.S. district Court for the District of Columbia.

It is absolutely forbidden by the IAM constitution to lend union money for any purpose at any time to private individuals.

All this is no new practice, burgeoning after the hearings on The Hill created sensitivities in some corners of the house of labor. The union's records have been audited for over 50 years. The constitution orders the international president, Al J. Hayes, to set up a special auditing committee each six months.

THIS COMMITTEE is made up of three men from each of three local unions within a radius of 40 miles of the national headquarters in Washington. No man is permitted to serve on this auditing committee more than once in three years. It must hire a Certified Public Accountant. Together they go over the books.

Then a full audit report is made up. It is signed and verified under oath by the committee and the CPA.

This report has run 60 pages because it shows every penny paid to every official—by name.

It is printed and mailed to every one of the 2,069 local financial secretaries. Any one of the 900,000 members has the right to inspect it whenever he wishes. Those unionists sure know where their money goes.

And just to make certain, the union's leaders print a summary of the report in their national newspaper, edited by Gordon Cole, whom many of us consider the nation's leading labor journalist.

But this is just the beginning. There's a tracer kept on every cent in every one of the locals, too. The national constitution specifically prohibits the loaning or appropriating of funds, property or assets of the local lodge for any other than the legitimate purpose of the IAM.

FURTHERMORE, locals are required by the national headquarters to elect auditing committees to examine the union's local finances every three months.

To enforce this provision the national headquarters maintains a staff of 21 full-time, trained auditors who swirl around the country, checking not only the local books but the health and welfare funds, building funds, and every other fund which is kept for the benefit of the members.

Thus it's no coincidence that the union's national chief, Al J. Hayes, is head of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee.

He goes in for ethical practices. It adds up. All you gotta do is want to do it.

He preaches what he practices—and vice-versa.

Van Doren Out After 14 Weeks

Woman Lawyer Takes Over Top TV Quiz Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—An attractive woman lawyer with a knowledge of kings Monday night dethroned Charles Van Doren from his 14-week reign as ruler of NBC's Twenty-One television quiz program.

By bumping Van Doren off the show, Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, a 30-year-old blonde, picked up $14,000 and replaced the Columbia University instructor as star of the show.

It dropped Van Doren's over-all winnings to $129,000, but still left him television's top winner on any single quiz show.

Mrs. Nearing, whose lawyer husband Victor was one of Van Doren's previous victims, took advantage of a rules option to halt the game when she was ahead 17-10.

Van Doren had missed the first question and didn't get the 10 points he was trying for because of his inability to name Baudouin as the king of Belgium. It was one part of a six-part question dealing with the names of the kings of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Jordan and Iraq.

Cashes in On Rules

Mrs. Nearing, who had first shot at it, correctly named the kings in order as Frederick, Haakon, Gustavus, Baudouin, Hussein and Faisal.

Van Doren answered five correctly but stumbled over Baudouin. He mopped his brow and muttered, "The son of Leopold, the son of Leopold . . . I know that name." He couldn't come up with it but finally made a guess, admitting that it was probably wrong. He named the present king as Leopold, who actually is the father of Baudoin.

Playing it cautiously, the woman challenger selected a question that rated only at seven points in difficulty. She named Angora as the specific type of goat that yields mohair.

Van Doren, shooting the works, tried and made a 10-point question by naming the poodle, bulldog, Dalmatian, chow and Boston terrier as five breeds of non-sporting dogs.

Exercised Option

At this juncture, Mrs. Nearing, in a booth sealed off from Van Doren, exercised a program option and stopped the game while she was ahead 17-10. It was a sheer guess on her part, for she had no knowledge of what questions Van Doren was asked or answered. She said she just operated on a hunch, a right one as it turned out.

"All hail to the new champion," Van Doren said with a smile as he extended congratulations.

Van Doren entered the night's competition with earnings of $143,000. It was chopped down $14,000, on the basis of $2,000 for every winning point amassed by a winner. In Mrs. Nearing's case, it amounted to seven points.

After the show Van Doren said, "I've got a date with the tax man." He figures he'll be left with about $30,000 after taxes. He said he hopes to put the money aside in investments, drawing on it "to do the things I really want to do."

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Haron Spencer, 46, of Hamilton was fatally injured Monday night in a plunge into a pit from a press being built at the Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton Corp. plant here.

Marion Man Talks To Galion Rotary

GALION — The subject of a talk by Henry A. Mickley of Marion, past district governor of Rotary, at the Galion Rotary club meeting Monday night was "Rotary on an International Level." He was introduced by Rev. Paul C. Walter of Galion, district governor, when the club held its regular meeting at Hotel Talbott.

Mr. Mickley, in speaking of Rotary clubs in various countries, said that in some cases Rotary is doing better in playing an important part in world affairs than the United Nations. He said that Rotary is one of five organizations working with the U.N., and that Rotary International has an observer at the U.N.

The speaker also gave a few facts about Rotary history, and said that while it is in its 52nd year, there have been only three secretaries. He spoke of the increase of clubs in Japan. During the war, Rotary clubs in Japan were not disbanded, but simply assumed other names for that period, Mr. Mickley said

John F. Hoffman of Norwalk was a guest.

GOP Parley Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—National Republican leaders will hold a "get-acquainted" meeting with Ohio area GOP workers in Cincinnati May 17-18. The meeting is one of six scheduled by the Republican National Committee and endorsed by President Eisenhower.

Purpose of the meetings was outlined in a letter from President Eisenhower to GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn, praising the plan. The letter said the President was delighted with plans by party chieftains "to get personally acquainted with local party leaders and to make certain that the hopes, aspirations and ideals of the Republican party, as expressed by the workers and members in the field, will be accurately reflected in all party plans and programs."

Woman Shot, Left for Dead, Calls Police, Identifies Robber

CINCINNATI (AP)—A strong-willed woman, shot and left for dead in an early-morning robbery at her home, has led police to the man who admits the holdup-assault.

Mrs. Nellie Thomas, 49-year-old tavern operator, was trussed, beaten and shot through the head Monday, but managed to crawl to a phone to get help.

She told officers she recognized the man who invaded her home as a husky locksmith who had visited the house recently for repair work.

Police arrested the man, Orval William Burt, 29. They said he admitted staging the robbery because "I was pressed for money" but said shooting Mrs. Thomas was an accident.

Mrs. Thomas was in serious condition at Jewish Hospital Monday night, where aides said she is expected to recover.

Investigators said more than $1,000 was taken from the Thomas home safe and the woman's purse. Burt told officers he spent some of the money paying bills. About $500 was recovered.

Shotgun Blast Fatal

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—The shotgun that an elderly man used to steady himself while he climbed out of bed apparently went off accidentally and killed him Monday.

John Robert Denny, 70-year-old retired factory worker, had been ill in bed for two weeks, his son Robert said. The older Denny was shot in the chest.

Coroner Ted Stevens ruled the shooting accidental.

Named Princess

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miss Karen True Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harold Gilmore, Akron, Ohio, has been named Ohio's cherry blossom princess. Miss Gilmore, along with princesses from other states and territories, will participate in the annual Cherry Blossom Festival here April 2-7.

There are only 300 to 400 professional astronomers in the United States.

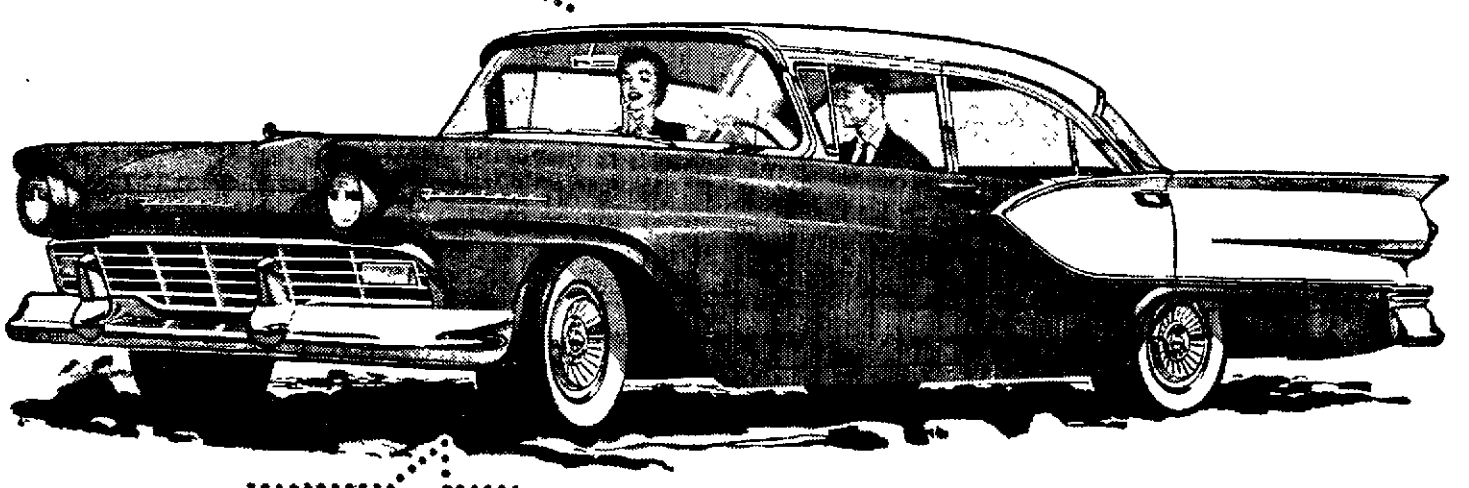
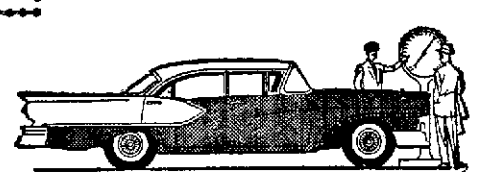
How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?



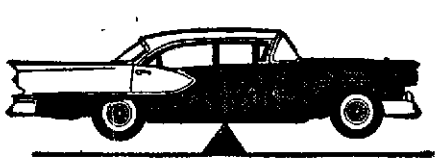
It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

• Folks just naturally love Ford's longer, lower silhouette. And they love Ford's new, more powerful Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new kind of ride. In the new kind of Ford these vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. They're demonstrated elsewhere on this page.



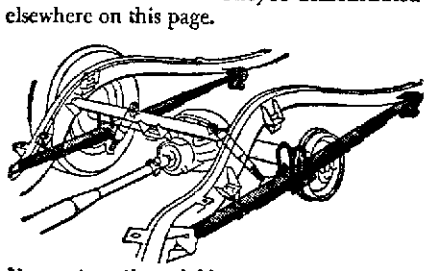
More weight and length

Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.



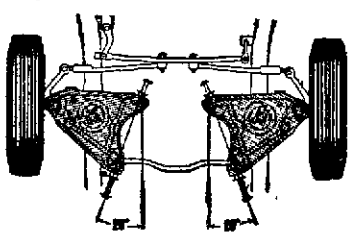
Better balance

One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps far better than many of the higher-priced cars.



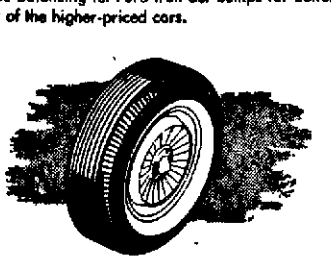
New automatic variable-rate rear springs

Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!



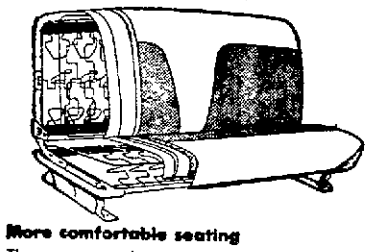
New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension

Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away . . . for far smoother, steadier sailing.



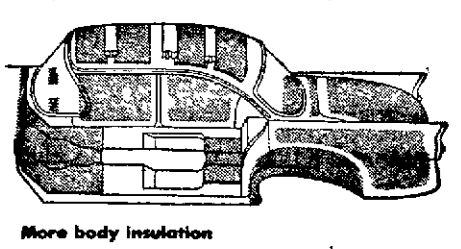
New lower-pressure tires

Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.



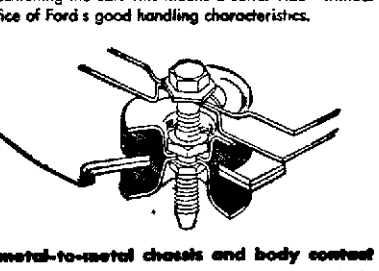
More comfortable seating

There's no sag when you sit in a Ford . . . even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.



More body insulation

Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through city traffic in library-like quiet.



No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact

Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts . . . more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Students Urged To Use Care in Selecting Career

1,400 Pupils at Harding And St. Mary Hear Whirlpool Official

"It's Your Career, Make the Most of It," was the title of the talk given by Robert L. Evans, executive vice president in charge of personnel for the Whirlpool - Seeger Corp. at St. Joseph, Mich. when he spoke before approximately 1,400 Harding and St. Mary high school students in the Harding auditorium this morning, kicking off the annual Career Day.

Mr. Evans stressed that already students are on their way to careers by the records they are making. "What you do now," he said, "can influence your opportunities in a future career."

He stressed the importance of laying a firm foundation for a vocation in the classroom by maintaining good grades and character building activities. "Your high school record stays with you wherever you go," the speaker emphasized.

MR. EVANS urged every student to finish high school, even though studies at times may seem difficult. A high school education, he pointed out, insures better opportunities in job hunting, especially in this age of growing competition.

In discussing the decision a student must make concerning whether or not to seek a college education, the speaker pointed out that a higher education is not sufficient in itself to guarantee a more secure future and better career opportunities. A college education must be utilized to its fullest.

Many men, he said, never attend college, but continue to learn after graduation from high school by taking night courses or studying in their own time.

Concerning financial obstacles which often greet students who aspire to attending college, Mr. Evans said: "If you make the effort, I'm sure you'll find a way."

He pointed out that many organizations are interested in helping needy students who show promise. Colleges, too, he noted, offer opportunities for work to enable the student to continue his education.

The speaker explained that the cooperative program such as is found at the University of Cincinnati enabled him to further his schooling in spite of financial limitations. Under this plan the student rotates between classroom and employment periods.

MR. EVANS offered consolation for the high school senior who is not sure of the career he wishes to pursue, yet feels he wants to continue his education.

College, he pointed out, is the place to discover your aptitudes and interests if you have not already done so. For the undecided student, he suggested a liberal arts course.

Whether the student goes on to college or embarks on his career beginning with high school graduation, Mr. Evans urged each one to evaluate his career choice and be sure of its personal appeal before entering it.

He explained that working for money alone is not enough. In addition to having a vital interest in the career choice, he advocated that students search for a vocation which would give service to others.

Cited as examples were nursing and teaching, both, in his opinion, unselfish careers in which a definite contribution was being made to humanity. "Give of yourselves to other people," was his advice for students in carrying out a career.

Once on the job the student should "settle for no less than his best," Mr. Evans indicated.

He pointed out that employers want receptiveness on a new job and they look most for their employes to develop ambition, honesty and the desire to succeed.

THE SPEAKER closed his 20-minute talk with the thought: "The world is your career" and urged students to find their role in the vast scheme of living.

Mr. Evans was introduced by Jasper Burt, new general manager of the local Whirlpool - Seeger plant. Mr. Burt succeeds Glen Evans, brother of the speaker, who has been transferred to the St. Joseph division where he is general manager.

Opening comments were made by Robert S. Brown, superintendent of schools who introduced guests and participants seated on the stage.

They were Rev. Clyde R. Wendell, president of the Marion County Ministerial Association, who led in the invocation; Rev. William J. Spickerman, St. Mary rector; Darl Gatchell, Harding principal, who thanked the speaker and provided closing remarks; L. G. Jones, music instructor, who led in the singing of The Star Spangled Banner, and Mr. Burt and Mr. Evans.

Students seated on the stage included Jed Middleton and Bill Robbins, presidents of Harding and St. Mary student councils respectively, and Marlo Barrett and Larry Kelly, respective senior class presidents.

Revolt Hits Borneo

JAKARTA (AP) — Another major island of the Indonesian republic, Borneo, was reported in rebellion against the central government today. Rumors circulated that the revolt might even spread to Java, virtually all that the Jakarta regime still controls.

Dulles Stands Pat On Chinese Views

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles today said the United States "adheres steadfastly" to its recognition of Nationalist China and its opposition to giving China's seat in the United Nations to the Communist Peiping regime.

Dulles made the statement to the SEATO Council of Ministers, which continued closed-door sessions of its third annual conference.

The American secretary said he wanted to make the U.S. policy clear to America's allies in Southeast Asia, not to bring China policy before the SEATO Council for debate.

New Bridge Is Closed For Surface Treatment

The new bridge over the Big Scioto River in Montgomery Township, opened for traffic last week end, has been closed again for surface-treating the flooring, according to Reed Ours, Marion County engineer.

The steel-frame structure, located about one and one-half miles south of Agosta on County Road 35, has a wooden plank floor which is being creosote-treated. The bridge was expected to be reopened to the public late this afternoon, Mr. Ours said.

Richwood Man Seriously Hurt In Auto Crash

A Marion area resident suffered serious injuries in the single highway accident investigated Monday by highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Listed in "poor" condition this morning in Columbus' White Cross Hospital is Clifford Gorenflo, 64, of near Richwood, who narrowly escaped death when the car he was driving went off Route 4 about 6:05 p.m. Monday three miles south of Marion and turned over.

Patrolmen said the Gorenflo vehicle, headed north, ran off the west side of the highway, knocked down 72 feet of guard rail, struck a bridge abutment, careened back across the road and turned over in a field on the east side of the highway.

Gorenflo, taken to Marion General Hospital in a Boyd ambulance, was subsequently transferred to the Columbus hospital. He suffered severe head injuries, a fractured jaw and collarbone, and multiple cuts and bruises, patrolmen reported. His car was demolished.

Parked Car Damaged

Damage to a parked car on Blaine Ave. near Foster Lane resulted in the only accident investigated Monday by Marion police. Police said a car owned by Mary Temple of 459 Blaine Ave. received damage to the left front headlight while parked in front of her house between 9:30 a.m. and 10 p.m. It had not been determined whether another car was responsible for the damage, police said.

New Dormitories Slated

OSU's Trustees Speed Up Construction Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University's Board of Trustees today took four major steps designed to speed up a contemplated 60 million dollar construction program, including new dormitories.

Included in the program will be issuances of six million dollars in bonds to be sold at private sale.

The trustees approved selection of bond counsel, Squires, Saunders and Dempsey of Cleveland; authorized Vice President Jacob B. Taylor to advertise for bids on the six millions in bonds; authorized Taylor to pay $185,000 to the state treasurer as an outstanding lien on existing dormitories, and authorized Taylor to repurchase from three retirement systems the university's own bonds in the amount of $1,510,000.

The latter move was made necessary to save the university interest charges of about $45,000.

The moves today were tied in with expected approval by the Federal Housing and Home Financing Agency of a borrowing program in which federal funds would be made available to help finance the improvements. They were also linked with expected action in the Ohio Senate Tuesday approving a House-approved bill authorizing state - supported universities to acquire sites for new dormitories.

The board, without comment approved the action taken by the athletic board, rehiring football Coach Woody Hayes and his staff of seven coaches for another year.

At the same time, it approved plans and specifications for three major additions to university structures involving an estimated cost of $5,250,000. Chief among them is the three million dollar north wing of University Hospital, with funds approved by the Legislature two years ago.

Effective with the 1957 autumn quarter, the trustees authorized increased rates for board and room for both women's and men's dormitories on the campus, by $35 per quarter. Exceptions include the stadium and River Road dormitories where rates are lower than in the modern campus facilities. Increase in these areas will be $27 per quarter.

Aleutians Are Hit By Volcano Jitters

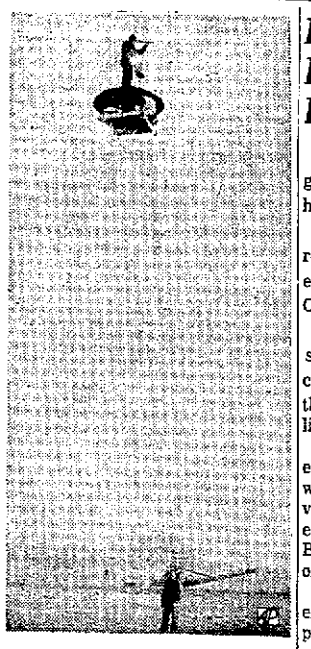
ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Walter Freeman, an airways station agent on Umnak, reported the outermost Aleutian Island is under a siege of volcano jitters.

Mt. Vsevidof, a volcano dormant for 200 years has been smoking since Saturday's big earthquake.

Freeman reported in a telephone message to Anchorage Monday the natives on Umnak are terrified and the Navy and Coast Guard at Adak have been alerted for possible evacuation of the island.

Bull Brings $27,000

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Breeders Assn. Monday purchased Lee's Hill Kayak M., a brown Swiss bull, from the Old Home Farm at Minster for a record $27,000. The sale eclipsed the previous high of $23,500 paid for Col. Harry in 1947.



FLYING PROGRESS. A recent picture taken of the U. S. Army's Flying Platform shows it in stability tests at Hiller Helicopter's Plant, at Palo Alto, Calif. The craft shown is the original research Platform announced in 1955, which has been flown extensively to prove advantages of the ducted fan principle for vertical take-off aircraft and feasibility of body balance for an in-flight directional control. The Army believes the ducted fan principle has a great potential for larger aircraft capable of carrying many people as well as for small one-man machines.

Plans Abandoned

CINCINNATI (AP)—Plans of Clopay Corp. to purchase the Chemical and Industrial Corp. of Cincinnati have fallen through, Clopay's board of directors announced Monday.

Pup Tangled Up In Bone Is Freed By Veterinarian

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Brownie got too wrapped up in a meal here Monday.

Brownie is a 7-month-old "part redbone and part beagle" puppy, explains his owner, William McCoy.

Monday, Brownie got a round steak bone. He chomped. He chewed. And he wound up with the bone encircling his lower jaw like a ring.

McCoy's neighbors suggested everything from cutting the bone with a hacksaw to placing it in a vise and cracking it. One bystander tried to wiggle the bone off, but Brownie's teeth were just too hard on the man's fingers.

So off Brownie went to the veterinarian. A little sleeping potion put Brownie in dreamland and the vet wiggled the bone loose.

Sentence Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Mary Ann Cunningham, 29, Columbus, is free on a one-year suspended jail sentence today, after she pleaded guilty Monday to charges of child abuse. She admitted in the Court of Domestic Relations here that she burned her sons, Michael, 5, and Richard, 2, with a red hot knife because she caught them playing with fire.

Redleg Slugger Insists 1956 Ailment Shaken, Prepares for Big Campaign

Kluszewski Says Sciatica No Longer Affecting Play

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The tormenting sciatica condition which reduced Ted Kluszewski's all-around effectiveness last year and for a while threatened to end the Cincinnati slugger's brilliant baseball career, is now a thing of the past — well, almost.

The mighty-muscled first baseman, his huge torso "slenderized" to a mere 235 pounds, his suntanned, good-humored face dripping with perspiration from a self-imposed strenuous conditioning program, took time out from his labors today to discuss his health, habits and home run hitting prospects for 1957.

"I'm very optimistic about this coming season," Kluszewski, 32, began. "I can't begin to tell you the difference between this and last spring. I'm almost like a new man. A year ago, because of that sciatica condition, I could hardly move. It hurt to swing a bat, it hurt to run, it hurt to reach out for a thrown ball. I find I can do all these things now without feeling any pain.

"I won't lie to you and say that I don't feel it at all," Ted continued. I know it's there. But it's only a slight soreness."

Kluszewski missed 23 games last year including the final week of the season when the Redlegs were trying desperately to overtake Brooklyn and Milwaukee in the tense three-team struggle for the pennant.

His batting average dropped to .302, a five-year low. His power production fell off 12 homers from the preceeding year to 33 and his runs batted in figure by 11 to 102.

Hal Jeffcoat Hurls Cincinnati to Win

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Cincinnati Redleg manager Birdie Tebbetts says ball games are won "on the mound", and thinks burly right-hander Hal Jeffcoat can win 15 this year.

His prediction came Monday after Jeffcoat's three-hit, four-inning performance helping the Reds trim the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-2, in an exhibition game.

Of course, Jeffcoat is not the only one Tebbetts expects big things from this year. "We hope and believe that our fellows come through as real sound pitchers," he said.

REALLY IN THE CHIPS. Rev. Bob Richards of Los Angeles A.C., sinks into the wood chips at the Milwaukee Games in Milwaukee. Richards ended up in this position as he attempted to vault 15 feet, nine inches. He had broken the met record and was going for a world record, but he didn't make it.

Drop Third Straight

Bosox Miss Batting Punch Of Williams, Jackie Jensen

By The Associated Press

Beantown fans, don't be alarmed! True, the Bosten Red Sox have yet to win a spring exhibition game, and they'll be battling the New York Yankees again today at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Red Sox have scored only two runs since exhibitions began Saturday. The Detroit Tigers thumped them 10-1 Saturday, the Washington Senators downed them Sunday 4-1, while Monday three Yankee right-handers combined to shut them out 2-0 on three hits.

Top Hitters Idle

However, a good part of the Boston batting punch is absent in the persons of Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen. Furthermore, these power boys probably won't get into the lineup until the Red Sox travel to the West Coast later this month. Jenson is working out in California.

Williams, sore and stiff, watched from the bench in civilian clothes as the veteran Tom Sturdivant and rookies Ralph Terry and Jack Urban blanked his mates.

Yogi Berra, American League Most Valuable Player in 1956, played his first game of the spring and drove in one New York run with a sacrifice fly and the other scored on an infield out.

Manager Mike Higgins says its up to Williams, and Williams alone when to decide he's ready to play.

Unbeaten Pittsburgh Pirates made it three straight at Fort Myers, Fla., defeating the Washington Senators 3-2 on catcher Danny Kravitz's run - scoring single in the last of the ninth.

Herb Score, Cleveland 20-game winner, and rookies Jim Grant and Dick Mesa limited Baltimore to six hits as the Indians won 5-1 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Giants Whip Cubs

At Mesa, Ariz., the New York Giants broke a 4-4 tie in the top of the ninth and went on to defeat the Chicago Cubs 7-4. The Cubs have yet to win in three starts.

Art Schult and Pete Wisenant rocked rookie pitcher Angelo Li Petri for home runs and the Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Philadelphia Phils 4-2 at Tampa, Fla. Rip Repulski and Eddie Kazanski homered for the Phils, who also have dropped three in a row.

Stan Musial blasted his second homer in two days for St. Louis Cardinals to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 4-3.

Brooklyn got classy two-hit pitching Monday night at Miami from Bob Darnell, Ken Lehman, Charlie Templeton and Don Elston, but the Chicago White Sox shoved across the lone tally in the fourth for a 1-0 victory.

Final Vote Taken

Tar Heels, Kansas Finish In Top Two Spots in Poll

By The Associated Press

The North Carolina Tar Heels, who specialized all season in winning the close ones, have turned up a romping winner in the final Associated Press college basketball poll.

Unbeaten in 24 regular season games prior to a three-game sweep through the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tournament, the Tar Heels climaxed a two-month reign Monday by drawing first-place votes from 55 of the 76 participating sports writers and sportscasters. Kansas, the runner-up after leading part of the season, drew nine.

On the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc., North Carolina received 725 points to 602 for the Jayhawks. Kentucky, Southern Methodist, Seattle, Louisville, West Virginia, Vanderbilt, Oklahoma City, and St. Louis rounded out the top 10 in that order.

The nation's only major unbeaten team as they prepare for their first round game with Yale tonight in the NCAA competition at New York, the Tar Heels succeeded the San Francisco Dons, No. 1 in the AP final balloting in the last two seasons.

Of their 27 consecutive victories, the Tar Heels — brought back to the national spotlight by Coach Frank McGuire — won seven by five points or less.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1.	North Carolina (55)	725
2.	Kansas (9)	602
3.	Kentucky (2)	479
4.	Southern Methodist (1)	437
5.	Seattle	302
6.	Louisville (1)	236
7.	West Virginia (1)	184
8.	Vanderbilt	164
9.	Oklahoma City (1)	126
10.	St. Louis (1)	117

The second 10:

11.	Michigan State	98
12.	Memphis State (4)	97
13.	California	92
14.	UCLA	85
15.	Mississippi State	67
16.	Idaho State	62
17.	Notre Dame	45
18.	Wake Forest	44

Larson Denies Seeking New Football Post

Gordon Larson, head football coach at Harding High School, today denied published reports that he was an applicant for the grid coaching post at Plain Central High School, a new consolidated school in Stark County.

"I'm very happy right where I am," Larson said today. "I like Marion and its people. I have never been and am not now an applicant for the job."

The Prexy coach was included in a list of six applicants who had been weeded from an original field of 67 in the report published Monday.

The report stated that Larson and five other applicants were to be interviewed by the Plain Central school board tonight. The Harding coach, however, denied he had any plans for making the trip to Stark County.

Larson, last fall completed his second year at the Harding helm, and has just completed a highly-successful assignment as tournament manager for the Class AA sectional and district play at the Coliseum.

Louisville Keglers Take Lead in ABC

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Oertel's "92" Beer of Louisville, Ky., was in first place today in the open team division of the American Bowling Congress tournament with a 3-game total of 2,878.

Oertel's Monday night ousted Metropolitan Clothes of Dayton, Ohio, which dropped into second place with 2,837.

Earlier Monday, Gibby Jacobs and Eugene Chelf of Durant, Iowa, paired for a 1,221 score to take first place in the doubles standings. Jacobs' had a 3-game total of 606 and Chelf had 615.

Glen Vaughn of Fort Wayne, Ind., leads all-events standings with 1,821.

West Virginia Cagers Upset In NAIA Play

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Villa Madonna College Rebels of Covington, Ky., stole the spotlight in first round action Monday of the National Collegiate (NAIA) basketball tournament by upsetting third seeded West Virginia Tech 93-91.

Texas Southern, one of last year's finalists, escaped elimination from the week long tournament by a narrow 67-66 margin over New Haven, Conn., State.

Other first round results included Portland, Ore., University 77, Austin Peay of State of Clarksville, Tenn., 65; Eastern Illinois State of Charleston 88, Highlands University of Las Vegas 76; Central State (Stevens Point) Wisc., 93, Millersville, Pa., State 85; Hamline University of St. Paul 75, Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., 72; Southwest Texas State of San Marcos 104, Upper Iowa of Fayette 71; Emporia, Kan., State 82, Northern State Teachers of Aberdeen, S. D., 66.

West Virginia Tech, trailed 43-38 at the half. Tech worked to a 69-69 tie in the middle of the final period but couldn't hold on.

Villa Madonna's next game is at noon Wednesday against Eastern Illinois.

Gulliford Quintet Reaches Title Tilt

Gulliford Hardware's basketball five won the right to play for the Tri-County hardcourt championship Wednesday night by turning back the Waldo Supply team, 81-53, Monday night on the Richwood High School boards.

Gulliford will play the winner of the Richwood - Wyandot game at 8:30 p.m., while Waldo takes on the loser at 7:30 for consolation honors.

The victors of Monday's game led all the way, enjoying a 22-18 first-quarter edge, managing a 40-25 advantage at the half, and a 62-35 margin after three periods of play.

Gene Craycraft paced the Gulliford scoring attack, rolling in 18 points. Bob Weston and Paul Sheppard both hit for 13 tallies, while Merl Hilborn netted 12. The game's high scorer, however, was Roy Klingle, with 19 digits. Bill Axline dumped in 11 for the losers' second high.

GULLIFORD

B. Weston 6-1-13; Marsh 2-3-7; Withrow 1-2-4; Paul Sheppard 5-3-13; Gene Craycraft 9-0-18; Riley 3-0-6; Kempton 0-0-0; W. Weston 1-0-2; M. Hilborn 6-0-12; B. Hilborn 3-0-6.

McGuire Cautious

North Carolina Duels Yale in NCAA Struggle

By The Associated Press

"You know you can win too much too."

That's Frank McGuire's cautious attitude as his unbeaten Tar Heels head into competition against the nation's toughest college teams in the 19th National Collegiate Basketball Tournament.

North Carolina faces Yale tonight in a first-round triple-header at Madison Square Garden. Connecticut, Yankee Conference champion, encounters Syracuse, and West Virginia, Southern Conference winner, plays Canisius.

The first round opened Monday night at Pocatello, Idaho, where Idaho State defeated Hardin-Simmons 68-57.

Play at Columbus

Tonight at Columbus, (Ohio), Morehead (Ky.) of the Ohio Valley Conference plays Pittsburgh and Miami (Ohio), the Mid-American Conference champion, meets Notre Dame. Oklahoma City University, an at-large entry, entertains Loyola (La.).

The first-round winners advance to join nine other teams in four regional tournaments at Philadelphia, Lexington, Ky., Dalias and Corvallis, Ore., Friday and Saturday. The four survivors will clash in the last two rounds at Kansas City March 22-23.

North Carolina, winner of 27 straight games and the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament, has been voted the nation's No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll. The Tar Heels must be rated as at least one of the top favorites to win the title, which went to San Francisco the past two years.

But McGuire tempered optimism with caution.

"We were very very lucky to win a number of games that could have gone either way," he said. "There's more pressure the more you win and its much harder to keep a team up."

To Meet Hundley

If North Carolina gets past Yale, the chances are it will meet West Virginia in a game matching two All America performers — Carolina's Lennie Rosenbluth and West Virginia's Hot Rod Hundley.

The Syracuse-Connecticut winner will face Lafayette, Middle Atlantic Conference winner, at Philadelphia.

Winners of the Morehead-Pitt and Miami-Notre Dame games will meet Kentucky and Michigan State, respectively, at Lexington.

The Oklahoma City-Loyola winner plays St. Louis, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, and Idaho State meets defending champion San Francisco. Other second-round pairings are Kansas vs. Southern Methodist at Dallas and Brigham Young vs. California at Corvallis.

Grid Coach Quits

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP)—Bob Shertzer, football coach at Point Pleasant High School for five years, has resigned and says he's considering several business and coaching offers in his native Ohio. Shertzer was a player and assistant football coach at Massillon High School under Paul Brown.

Yovicsin Gets Harvard Grid Coaching Post

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — John Yovicsin — a darkhorse candidate from Gettysburg College — is bringing the T-formation and admiration for the Ivy League to the head football coaching job at Harvard.

The 38-year-old Yovicsin has succeeded Lloyd Jordan as the 22nd grid-master for the Crimson.

Athletic director Tom Bolles did not disclose the terms of the contract Monday when the appointment was announced. It was estimated at $10,000 a year for three years.

Yovicsin, (pronounced Yah' - vi ssin) whose balanced-line T-formation offense is noted for its professional - type pass patterns and flanker pitchouts, has five years as a head coach behind him at Gettysburg, his alma mater.

His teams won 32 and lost 11.

Why did Harvard pick him from the 95 candidates considered and 26 interviewed in the nine weeks since Jordan's dismissal?

"Our committee (the faculty committee on athletics) decided early not to try to get a name coach," Bolles said.

"We wanted a new man to grow up in this atmosphere. The transition (to the Ivy League) would be less difficult this way."

Raines' Defensive Work Questioned

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Shortstop Larry Raines, who has been impressive at the plate in Cactus League games, will have to start playing major league ball in the field if he wants to survive further squad cuts, says Cleveland Indians Manager Kerby Farrell.

CHURCH LEAGUE CHAMPS. The Calvary Church's hardcourt five captured the church league championship Monday night in the YMCA by defeating the Epworth Methodist squad 39-37, in an overtime. The count was knotted at 35-35 at the end of regulation play. Calvary's Bud England rolled in four free throws in the three extra minutes to account for the victory. Members of the championship squad are, top row (left to right), Fritz Guy, coach, Ned Cook, Bob Reif, Neil Kinley. Bottom row (left to right), Bob Klingel, Bud England and Punk Dutt.

Detroit Rookie In Battle for Tuttle's Post

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) —There is a striking resemblance in the baseball history of Jim Small, the youngster in centerfield for the Detroit Tigers against Milwaukee today, and his partner in rightfield, Al Kaline.

Small is given a good chance to take Bill Tuttle's centerfield job.

Kaline was a rawboned kid of 18 when he signed for a bonus with the Tigers in 1953. He got into 30 games that year and hit .250. He won a regular job for himself in 1954 and hit .276. The next year he won the American League batting crown with a .340 average.

Small received a bonus when he signed in June 1955. He went to the plate for the Tigers four times and came away hitless that year. He batted .319 in 91 trips last year.

Rush and Speake Join Injury List

MESA, Ariz., (AP) —The Chicago Cubs's injury list lengthened Monday with the addition of pitcher Bob Rush and first baseman Bob Speake.

Rush complained of abdominal pains and was taken to a physician who prescribed a series of tests today to determine the source of the trouble.

Speake, running out a hit, tripped over first base and injured his left shoulder. A lefthander, Speake will refrain from throwing for a couple of days.

Still bothered by a sore shoulder is shortstop Ernie Banks who will rest for three or four more days.

Heaven Will Protect the Working Girl

Singer Jo Stafford, who describes herself as an introvert in an extroverted business, has properly restored our faith in a profession where success is inevitably accompanied by an adamant cry for "less work and more money!" Yes, Virginia, there is a hard - working performer in TV. Her name is Jo, and her mercenary colleagues probably are doubting her sanity today because she's ignoring TV film jobs with slim schedules and fat residuals and holding out for a weekly assignment that will require her full attention six days a week.

MARIE TORRE

"Lots of people work six days a week," says Jo, but she was hard put to name even three among her confreres.

-:-

FOR MONTHS NOW, Jo has been pursued by two TV film syndicates to head (and partly own) half-hour variety shows, the kind which require three - day working periods apiece. But she's procrastinated on a decision. ("There's no zing in these filmed shows").

Last weekend, Jo exhibited her charm and talent as hostess on "The Perry Como Show" and the very next morning network executives were rapping on her door with offers of "live" half - hour weekly shows.

When Jo countered with, "Why not a whole hour?" they could have jumped clear out of their antennas, for after all they're accustomed to plaintive wails from "live" players who keep pleading for curtailed schedules.

"Is that so unusual, wanting a 'live' one-hour show?" asked Jo, real naive like. "I'd like nothing better, although I know it's more work than filmed TV and e i g h t times harder than radio. But if I can get a well - organized setup behind me, such as Perry Como has, I know the work will go smoothly those six days a week.

"Only condition I've set is that I'm not bothered with business details or production matters. There are capable people around to handle things like that. I just want to sing."

WHILE SHE HAS NBC'S full interest for her own fall show, Jo nurtures the hope that m u s i c a l matters will be handled by husband Paul Weston, the noted composer - arranger - conductor. "He knows me so well," put in Jo, and she might well have added he knows her vocal abilities just as well.

Nobody took issue with Mr. Weston when he recently described his wife's singing style with: "There's an unusual quality in her voice that hits people when they're lonely, disturbed, or just reposed. She gets fan mail from college kids, prison inmates, forest rangers, lighthouse keepers, and happy husbands. To them, Jo's voice isn't Broadway or Hollywood. It's simply the voice of a hometown girl they'd like to marry, or once did."

IT'S NOW OFFICIAL that actress Marjorie Lord who just completed a two - year run in "Aniversary Waltz," will toil as Danny Thomas' wife in his ABC series. According to plan, Marjorie will be introduced to the TV audience on April 4, and three weeks later she'll accept Danny's proposal.

"I watched her performance for four nights running," said the groom about the bride, "and I liked the way she alternated moods of fiery temper and gentility. It's exactly the way the wife of Danny Williams should react to his fits of stubborness and generosity."

STILL SHY ABOUT "live" TV, Bing Crosby will be seen in a filmed segment during the academy Awards presentation March 27. . . ABC's determination to lure singer Pat Boone into its camp is reflected in the terms of the deal they made. Boone's fall series involves approximately $2,000,000, with the singer having rights to package his summer replacement show.

TV being the place where singers act and actors sing, Robert Mitchum will take the opportunity to warble on the March 17 "Ed Sullivan Show." He threatens to dance, too. . .Gene Kelly, who's accepting TV offers almost as fast as they come to him has consented to emcee NBC's baseball spectacular April 13.

ALTHOUGH MANY weeks have gone by since CBS and Judy Garland parted, the singer launched a new blast against the network from the west coast: "It was rotten of CBS to put on a story about me being impossible to work with," she fumed. "I'm getting a little too old to put up with that. Big corporations, such as CBS, Metro and Warner Bros. don't know how to behave. They've all made me the patsy, and I'm getting tired of it. "I'm going to sue CBS."

NEW TRANSPORT PLANE FLIES INTO FUTURE. So far ahead that it is called the "Old 1961," this Lockheed laboratory plane takes off from Burbank, Calif., on its first flight with a jet-engine-and-propeller combination designed for the new Electra transport. The 501 prop-jet engine, which spins a four-bladed 606 propeller, is mounted outboard on wing nearest to camera and thus avoids ingestion of foreign matter from runways.

Saddler Plans Boxing Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Retired featherweight champion Sandy Saddler is eagerly looking forward to the day of his "unretirement" and a chance to get a crack at his successor.

"All I hope is that this tournament they're having to get a new champion builds up a lot of interest so we can make a lot of money when we meet for the title," said Sandy today at Flower Fifth Avenue Hospital.

Hospital authorities say the lanky, 30-year-old Saddler is "coming along satisfactorily" after an eye operation and that if the healing continues as well as it has he should be able to fight again. He has a detached retina in his right eye resulting from an auto accident. He gave up his title on Jan. 22 for fear he was losing sight in the eye.

"When I get out of here I'm going to get in the merchant marine for a short spell and go places. Then I'm going back in training and will challenge the winner. I feel I can beat any featherweight around and that includes those named for the tournament."

Miguel Berrios, Puerto Rico, and Carmelo Costa, Brooklyn, who open the elimination tournament at Madison Square Garden, March 22, Nigeria's Hogan (Kid) Bassey and Cherif Hamia of France, were the four picked for the tourney by the World Boxing Committee.

"How come they didn't pick Willie Pep for the tournament?" asked Sandy. "He's still the best featherweight in the world next to me."

Richwood Cagers Win in Semifinals

Richwood AC nailed down a berth in the Tri-County League cage tournament Monday night by belting the Wyandot Indians by a 95-86 margin.

The winners managed only an 18-16 edge in the opening period but by the halftime intermission had moved into a commanding 50-40 bulge. They carried a 77-66 cushion into the fourth quarter.

Jim Stiger pumped in 31 markers for the losers to take individual scoring laurels while Clair Hensel netted 21 and Jim Stinehilber added 18. John Cheney poured 28 points through the hoop for the winners with Dick Griffith finishing with 23 and Art Slemmons with 22. Charles Shields added 13.

The Richwood team will meet Gullford of Green Camp in the title clash Wednesday night.

RICHWOOD

R. Griffith 11-1-23; Blue 2-0-4; Slemmons 7-8-22; J. Cheney 12-4-28; C. Shields 5-3-13; B. Griffith 1-2-4; Shoup 0-1-1; G. Cheney 0-0-0.

WYANDOT

Cards Hoping For 20 Wins By 'Sad Sam'

ST PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — "If Jones and somebody else on our staff can win 20 games, we'll win the flag," said manager Fred Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals.

And Sam Jones, the 6-4, 200-pounder who led National League pitchers in both strikeouts and walks last season, looked like a 20-game winner in pitching three scoreless innings as the Cards defeated Milwaukee 4-3 in an exhibition Monday.

Big Sam struck out three, walked four and yielded only one single with his hopping fast ball and a big-breaking curve.

Stan Musial hit his second home run in as many games and drove in his fourth run in three games.

Services Continue

Sermon theme tonight at Epworth Methodist Church for the special Lenten Evangelistic Concern service will be, "Christ Has the Answer for All Our Desires."

The pastor, Rev. Walter C Eyster, will preach and Stanley Lawrence, Marion student at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., at home for this week, will offer prayer. The time will be 7:30 and the series of nightly services will continue through Saturday.

Galion Area Man Fined, Jailed on Traffic Counts

GALION — Oscar Stuttler Sr., 36, of near Galion, was fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Crawford county jail for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and fined another $50 and costs and sentenced to one day in jail for operating a motor vehicle on a temporary permit without a licensed driver in the car.

The fines and jail sentences were a result of an accident Saturday night in which Stuttler's six-year-old son, Oscar Jr., was critically injured, and his 11-year-old son, Russell, was less seriously injured. Both boys are in Galion Community Hospital.

Stuttler's car went out of control on South St., struck two utility poles, bent a guy wire and damaged a traffic sign.

Get Rate Refund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nine natural gas wholesalers in Ohio and Kentucky will share $1,779,938 plus interest in rate refunds from the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co. and Kentucky Gas Transmission Corp., both of Charleston, W. Va., under a settlement announced Monday by the Federal Power Commission. The nine firms are customers of Central Kentucky and Kentucky Gas.

Chicago Hill Crew Blanks Brooks 1-0

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Chicago White Sox rookie right hander Roger Howard is a nervous 25-year-old who frets and fusses when he's scheduled to pitch but that's all right with manager Al Lopez.

On the mound Monday night, Howard forgot all his nervousness and blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers on one hit in the three innings he worked. Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan also tossed three shutout innings each and the Sox won, 1-0.

"I'm always trying to get over pre-game jitters," said Howard. "When I'm on the mound, I'm not concerned. I figure I'm a match for any hitter who ever lived, but I sure worry beforehand."

New Mark Set By Boeing 707 In Speed Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Boeing 707 jet passenger plane, holding a new transcontinental speed title for commercial craft, set out today to win new friends among people of influence.

The handsome sky giant which flew the 2,325 miles from Seattle to Baltimore Monday in 3 hours and 48 minutes—at one point attaining a speed of 698 m.p.h. — was set for a series of demonstration flights over nearby Maryland and Virginia.

The invitation list included senators, congressmen, Pentagon officials and civil aeronautics experts.

The big plane averaged 612 m.p.h. for its Puget Sound-to-Chesapeake Bay flight, and sliced 10 minutes off the unofficial transport plane record it set between Seattle and Washington, D.C., in 1955.

The 707, costing 4½ to 5½ million dollars, will be delivered to its first airline buyers — Pan American and American — late next year and early in 1959. It will carry from 120 to 162 passengers.

Lausche Believes He Voted Wrong On Tungsten Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) says he now believes he was wrong when he voted in favor of a 30 million dollar appropriation Feb. 18. Lausche voted in favor of spending the money to buy tungsten and three other domestic metals. The Senate passed the measure 64-17.

Lausche's aide, Ray White, said Monday that Lausche learned after he cast his vote that the government already has what White termed a "huge stockpile of tungsten."

White said Lausche wrote a letter to Rep. Kirwan (D-Ohio), an opponent of the proposal, saying in effect that, if he knew then what he knows now, he would not have favored the appropriation.

The House later knocked the 30 million dollar item out of the parent bill, and attempts to reach a house - senate compromise have thus far failed.

Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) voted against the expenditure.

New Trial Denied

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Judge Stephen C. Colopy of Summit County Common Pleas Court Monday denied a motion for a new trial for Joe L. Lancaster, 48, and sentenced him to die in the electric chair July 14. A jury convicted Lancaster of first degree murder March 1 in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Louise Wallick, his landlady, Oct. 8.

Woman Found Guilty

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Annie W. Timbley, 39, Willoughby was convicted of first degree manslaughter Monday by a Lake County Common Pleas Court jury in the fatal shooting of Sam Ridley, 53, Willoughby, Nov. 18. She testified that she shot Ridley—described in testimony as her common-law husband—in self-defense, claiming that he had threatened her with a gun and knife. Sentencing was postponed until later this week by Judge W. S. Slocum.

Indictment Citing UAW Reinstated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A United Automobile Workers (UAW) official says the question of free speech is involved in the Supreme Court's reinstatement of an indictment charging the union with illegally paying for political broadcasts.

The high court ordered the reinstatement Monday. By a 6-3 majority, the court held U. S. District Judge Frank A. Picard erroneously interpreted the Corrupt Practices Act and stopped the prosecution "prematurely."

The court sent the case back to the Michigan court for trial.

Commenting on the action, UAW President Walter Reuther said:

"We intend to make every legal effort to defend our constitutional rights to free expression."

Guilty Verdict Is Found In Slaying at Hillsboro

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Robert Lee Curtis, 22, comes up for sentencing today after his conviction for first degree murder in the penknife slaying of a cabdriver.

A criminal court jury deliberated less than four hours Monday night before returning a verdict with a recommendation of mercy. This carries a mandatory life prison term.

Curtis' defense was based on the contention he was insane when he stabbed to death Durward E. Perry, 51, in a robbery attempt Dec. 8, and then dumped the body out on a county road.

Dr. R. E. Bushong of Lima State Hospital testified that Curtis is sane, but has sadistic tendencies.

Cleveland Woman Falls 80 Feet Into Pool at Y

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A woman plunged from a fourth-floor window of a YWCA building Monday, crashed through a plastic skylight and into an indoor swimming pool 80 feet below.

Miss Luzia Klauer, 35, a German refugee, suffered a pelvic fracture as she landed in five feet of water.

She said she had climbed onto a chair to open a window in her room. She slipped and fell out. She was taken to City Hospital, where her condition was described as serious.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices dipped in slow trading early this afternoon.

Losses of fractions to around a point were shown by leading issues. A few selected stocks posted gains.

It was the third straight session that the market has been in a slight downtrend.

The drop in the steel industry operating rate and prospects for even lower output, the emergence of a new crisis in the Middle East and mixed reports on business contributed to a cautious attitude among investors, brokers said.

Chrysler and American Motors were up a major fraction.

U. S. Steel and Youngstown were each down around a point and Bethlehem lost a major fraction.

Douglas, off around two, was an outside loser in view of the general range.

Eastman Kodak, Aluminium Ltd., Allied Chemical, Kennecott, Gulf Oil and U. S. Gypsum were all down about a point or more.

Goodrich was up about a point.

U. S. government bonds advanced.

Nuclear Energy Products DIVISION of ACF Industries, Inc.
Albuquerque, New Mexico
Needs
Journeymen Machinists
and Journeymen Inspectors

Machinists must be first class, operating all type machines, lathes, milling machines, large vertical and horizontal boring mills. Prototype work, not production line operator type work. Men must be capable of reading and working from blueprints, making setups and performing own machine work to close tolerances.

Regular four year machinest apprenticeship required, plus shop experience — otherwise, ten to fifteen years experience on all type machine tools with a good knowledge of shop math. Present starting rate for machinists, $2.63 per hour.

Inspectors must have considerable experience in machine shop type work, using all required measuring devices and must read blueprints fluently. Starting rate for inspectors $2.34 per hour.

Night shift work pays 10 and 15 cents more per hour and other attractive fringe benefits. Labor contract is with the International Association of Machinists, A. F. of L.

Liberal travel and relocation allowances. ACF is on the ground floor in the development of nuclear energy products.

WHY NOT LIVE AND WORK IN THE GREAT NORTHWEST!

No housing shortage. Sunny, dry and healthful climate in mountainous area, with low humidity. Recommended for arthritis, asthma, bronchial, and other respiratory difficulties.

Applicants must pass standard physical examination and A.E.C. Security Clearance (Atomic Energy Commission).

Will Study Post-High School Field

O'Neill Names Board For Education Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio commission on education beyond the high school was appointed Monday by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

O'Neill said the commission, which includes seven Ohio college presidents, will "emphasize in its report recommendations that will provide opportunity for every young man and woman in Ohio who is able and willing to obtain an education beyond the high school."

Dr. John Baker, president of Ohio University, and president of the commission, said he expected to call a meeting of the group in Columbus "in the near future" and would report back to the governor within a year.

O'Neill said the commission's study would include surveys of present facilities, as well as a review of present state educational policies.

"The members of the commission should not feel limited in their recommendations," the governor said, "but should approach the issues in a far-sighted and imaginative manner."

The governor added that the great increase in the number of students seeking education beyond the high school level also has created a problem in retaining and raising educational standards. He said the commission also would have to deal with methods of recruiting able men and women for Ohio college and university faculties.

Dr. Baker said that enrollment at the some 50 accredited colleges and universities would double and perhaps triple in the next 10 years.

O'Neill said he hoped that bills now before the Legislature to establish two new state-supported colleges would be deferred until the commission makes its report.

The governor said he expected the commission's recommendations will "serve Ohio and all of its citizens and not any special area or group."

Committee members included these college presidents: William E. Stevenson, Oberlin College; T. Keith Glennan, Case Institute of Technology; the Very Rev. Paul L. O'Connor, Xavier University; Howard F. Lowry, Wooster College; Robert N. Montgomery, Muskingum College; Asa S. Knowles, University of Toledo; Novice G. Fawcett, Ohio State University.

Others on the committee include: S. C. Allyn, president of National Cash Register Co., Dayton; Orville C. Jones, education director, Ohio CIO Council; A. A. Stambaugh, former chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Ohio, and Mrs. Louis B. Seltzer of Cleveland, wife of the editor of The Cleveland Press.

To Hear Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 65 members of the governor's Advisory Council on Atomic Energy gather here Friday to hear reports from several of the council's study groups.

Submitting reports will be study groups on agriculture, compensation and insurance, control and regulation, education and personnel training, health and safety, industrial development, and research. Among those expected to attend are Gov. C. William O'Neill, and E. E. Fowler, representing the Atomic Energy Commission.

'Mrs. America' Contest Deadline Will Be Friday

Marion area homemakers have until midnight Friday to enter the 1957 "Mrs. America" contest, C. L. Baxter, local manager of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. said today.

Applications may still be obtained at the office of the gas company or at local appliance stores.

All housewives over 21 years of age, who enter the contest by Friday will be eligible to participate in the first round eliminations here the week of March 25.

Winner of the local eliminations will compete in a district "cook-off" in Mansfield the week of April 1. The district winner will enter the state contest in Columbus April 11 where a new "Mrs. Ohio" will be chosen.

The woman selected "Mrs. Ohio" will receive an expense-paid trip to the national "Mrs. America" finals in Florida for herself and her husband. She also will receive a number of other valuable prizes as will the "runner-up" and the woman placing third.

Judging at each level of the contest will be based on homemaking ability, personality and grooming.

Awaits Report

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Youngstown police say they will wait for a chemist's report before deciding whether or not to continue dragging Glacier Lake in Mill Creek Park for a body.

The report is expected to tell the age of the individual whose blood stained a trunk found floating in the lake Sunday. Two days of dragging in the lake turned up "absolutely nothing," a police spokesman said Monday. Officers have theorized that the body of a newborn baby may have been in the trunk.

Chamber Board Meets

The board of directors of the Marion Chamber of Commerce approved three new members to the chamber and discussed other business at its regular meeting Monday noon in Hotel Harding.

A financial report for the month of February was submitted by Hugh E. Webster, executive secretary, and was examined and approved.

The board also discussed the establishment of an Ohio State University branch here.

Found Dead in Car

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Richard Helm, 31, and Mittie Bell Murry, 30, both of Mansfield, were found dead Monday police said, in a car that had rolled off a Richland County road and landed in a ditch. Coroner D. C. Lavender ruled the deaths accidental, caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Let NEW ERA brighten and balance* your Lenten meals

MOST DIGESTIBLE!
HEALTHFUL FOOD ON THE ALKALINE SIDE
The NEW ERA
SCIENTIFICALLY PROCESSED
POTATO CHIPS
America's Foremost
NEW ERA POTATO CHIPS ARE SCIENTIFICALLY PROCESSED FROM FIELD-TESTED POTATOES WHICH ARE STARCH DEXTRINIZED FOR YOUR HEALTH AS WELL AS PLEASURE

Lenten Meal in a minute: Chill one can tuna, one can salmon (add shrimp if desired) empty and serve surrounded by New Era Potato Chips.

Make a switch from repetitious Lenten meals—brighten soups, salads, toasted cheese and tuna sandwiches with big handfuls of New Era Potato Chips—the brand that's so much fun to eat it outsells all others . . . rates as America's Number One Fun Food . . . makes ordinary foods something special.

Healthful, too, New Era Potato Chips are on the alkaline side—help balance high protein Lenten meals.
